STRIKER FATALLY SHOT ATTEMPTING TO BURN HOUSES

Foreigners Cause More Trouble in the Youngstown Dist.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 23.—One man was fatally wounded and another seriously injured when police broke up two attempts at arson by strikers shortly after midnight Wednesday night. Joachim Magapano will die, while Giuseppe Fagio, was shot above the heart is in a critical condition.

A group of striking Serbians and Italians held a secret meeting in Brier Hill Monday night and decided to burn the houses of several men who continued to work if their threats of violence were not heeded. The hour was set for Wednesday at midnight. In some way the police got wind of the plot and lay in wait for the strikers. Three Serbians had already set fire to the house of George Hall, 125 Fox street, before they were caught. Another group of three Italians was surprised attempting to fire the house of Dominic Lowry, 2660 West Federal street and Jim Maldo blacked Police Sergeant Bremer's eye in the battle that ensued. All of six men were armed and are under arrest on various charges, including carrying concealed weapons and attempted arson.

The Brier Hill Steel Company and the Republic Iron and Steel Company are each preparing to light another blast furnace today. The Brier Hill will also put two more open hearth furnaces in commission during the day.

Rival Claims

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 23.—Union leaders and steel companies of Pittsburgh claimed the advantage for their respective sides today. Representatives of the strikers said the men were gaining ground and that the strike had been given added impetus by the statement of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to the effect that the federation would lend its financial and moral support to the striking steel workers.

Representatives of the companies declared the mills were operating more fully today than on any day since the strike began.

Strike Called Off

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Members of the International Union of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Helpers, whose strike ten days ago resulted in a complete tie-up in express service here, returned to work today.

Decision to call the strike off was reached at a meeting late yesterday after a committee which had visited Washington reported that Walter D. Hines, U. S. Railroad director, had warned them that unless the strike were terminated he would send troops to New York to replace the strikers.

Mr. Hines has promised the men that he would seek to have the wage adjustment board return a decision on their demands by November 4.

Grocers Appeal For Relief In Sugar Shortage

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23.—The Ohio Wholesale Grocers' Association will appeal to United States Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer to grant relief to Ohio from the present acute sugar shortage.

Following a meeting of the wholesale grocers' executive committee in Columbus yesterday, R. E. Hills, of Delaware and George A. Bauer, of Cincinnati today went to Washington to confer with Palmer.

Wholesale grocers charged that Ohio beet sugar crop which is the Ohio until the Cuban crop comes in January.

Hills and Bauer will request federal authorities for a more equitable distribution of sugar. By order of the sugar equalization board the only source of sugar supply for supply of all cane sugar from the east was cut off to Ohio on the assumption that this state could depend upon its beet sugar crop.

PASTOR IS GIVEN PURSE

FINDLAY,—A purse of $133 was presented this week to Dr. William H. Guyer, pastor of the College Church of God and president of Findlay college, by members of his congregation.

CIVILIANS AND OFFICERS FACE FRAUD CHARGES

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Criminal prosecution of at least a dozen army officers and civilians and institution of a civil suit for recovery of from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 of which he said he figured the government had been mulcted in connection with a $40,000,000 munition contract involving the Standard Steel Car Company of Hammond, Ind., will be asked in its report to congress by a sub-committee which has been conducting an investigation, according to Chairman Graham in a statement made public today.

The big contract was for Howitzer gun carriages at $40,000 each, of which only 200 were finished, according to Congressman Graham's statement. "Allowing for the cost of preparation, the government still is mulcted of between $13,000,000 and $15,000,000 as I figure it," he said.

"The sub-committee is satisfied that the government is the victim of a gigantic fraud on this contract," the statement said. "Perusual of the testimony heard and the evidence submitted in private by the military intelligence department, shows there was a preconcerted scheme to put this graft across.

"Among facts brought out, was that the government spent $27,127,168 on the contract and received $8,000,000 worth of gun carriages, none of which was finished before the end of the war.

"The government was overcharged on sub-contracts and officials of the company, together with army officers, received automobiles and other valuable presents from the sub-contracting companies."

With Chairman Graham, Representatives Albert W. Jefferis and Finis J. Garrett formed the subcommittee that conducted the investigation.

DOCTORS ALLOW PRESIDENT TO TAKE UP BILLS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Unless President Wilson's executive activity of yesterday showed ill effects upon the patient, the prohibition enforcement bill with the department of justice's opinion on its constitutionality was to be laid before him some time today.

The president is known to be chafing under his enforced inactivity from participation in government affairs, and although he has until midnight of October 28, before the bill becomes a law without his signature, the physicians again may lower the bars and permit him to consider the measure.

Rear Admiral Grayson, the president personal physician, made plain that the increased inactivity of the president was not indicative of any decided improvement in his condition. He expressed the opinion also that withholding important questions from him would be more harmful to him than allowing him to consider them.

AUTOIST LOSES SUIT

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 22.—Damages for the full amount asked $2,000 were awarded Philip Herman here in his suit against Herman Fick. Herman asked damages for injuries received in an automobile accident. The defendant was charged with driving his machine carelessly and did not make a proper turn.

PASSPORT LAW EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A bill extending war-time restrictions on passports for one year so as to exclude from the country radicals and other undesirable aliens was passed today by the senate without a record vote and sent to conference.

Florimond Hankar, leader of the Belgian delegates, and the Hon. J. G. Jenkins, of the British delegation.

SECRETARY WILSON CHECKS BREAK IN MINING WAGE CONFERENCE BY A NEW PROPOSITION AS A FINAL RESORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The United Mine Workers of America today formally rejected the proposala by Secretary Wilson for settlement of the coail strike called for November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Action of the coal miners and operators today on Secretary of Labor Wilson's proposal for the settlement of their differences will determine the future course of the government in an effort to avert the strike of half a million bituminous coal miners called for November 1. The proposal would grant the miners an increased wage but ignores the union demands for a 30 hour week.

Operators and miners met separately in secret sessions this morning to consider the proposals and a joint conference with Secretary Wilson was set for two o'clock when the final answer was to be given.

WASHINGTON, October 23.—While committees representing miners and operators, meeting in a final effort to avert the strike of 500,000 soft coal miners set for November 1, were on the verge of parting for good, Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson held them together, overnight at least, with a wage increase proposal that ignored union demands for a thirty-hour week.

There was every assurance that the operators would accept it and every indication that it would be rejected by the miners.

When the joint conference adjourned until 2 o'clock, Thursday afternoon it was with the understanding that the two groups would meet then and make formal answer to the proposal, after separate consideration. Refusal of the miners to accept will bring the conference to a close and force Government officials to restort to other means to prevent the closing of the mines with the first approach of winter.

Secretary Wilson's offer, which prevented actual disruption of the proceddings, set forth the case as follows:

"That wages be increased at the expiration of the present contract in an amount equal to the difference between increases in wages received by mine workers since July, 1914, and the increase in the cost of living since that date.

"That the increase be effective from the termination of the present agreemnt until March 31, 1920.

"That on these conditions the strike order be withdrawn, and that the miners continue at work on these terms; that negotiations be entered into at the usual time for making a new scale effective after March 31, 1920."

The silence that prevailed during the reading of the terms on which Mr. Wilson hoped to settle the strike was broken by a quick demand from John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of American; that the Secretary explain what he meant in the opening paragraph of his statement concerning "expiration of the present contract."

The Secretary, bearing in mind that this was one of the principal issues in dispute, said it would be a matter for negotiation. The miners have contended that the wartime wage agreement under which they have been working ended with the amristice, while operators argue that it will hold until peace is declared formally by ratification of the treaty.

Until the Secretary, acting independently as a Government mediator, came forward with his proposal, the conference was deadlocked with each group eager to leave, but as eager to escape the charge that it was responsible for breaking off negotiations. Taking in the situation, and still hopeful that his efforts might succeed, Mr. Wilson suggested that the miners retire while he conferred with the operators.

Secretary Meets Miners

Later in the day the miners returned for a separate meeting with the Secretary and they in turn were joined by the operators. Meanwhile, a number of the delegates wished to go home, but were persuaded to remain overnight and make one more effort to bring about peace.

The attitude of the two groups again was outlined in detail, the miners anouncing that the strike order would not be withdrawn until the operators had agreed to a new contract. The operators again informed the Secretary that under no consideration would they arbitrate an the basis of the thirty-hour week, and if that was included in any proposal put before the joint sesion they would withdraw.

Miners Will Stick

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 23.—Officials of the biennial convention of the District No. 19, United Mine Workers of America, with a membership of over fifteen thousand, stated today that coal production will not cease at the mines in the local districts which have been signed under the Pineville (Kentucky) award, even if a nation-wide strike of the bituminous miners becomes effective, November 1. These mines have been signed on the agreement to continue the production of normal coal output during the time the negotiations are pending.

Neighbors Meet In Convention

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 23.—"Neighbors" from all parts of the country joined their efforts to increase neighborliness along the lines of community organization and cooperation developed by workers of Cincinnati at the national social unit convention which began here today. It will last through Saturday.

As a plan, the neighbors had before them the idea evolved three years ago by the 12,000 people of the Mohawk-Brighton district of Cincinnati. The area was divided into small neighborhoods or blocks, each containing 100 families. Each block elected a block council, of seven who chose an executive. The citiezns' council was formed from the block executive.

Parallel groups of physicians, nurses, teachers, social workers, trade unionists, business men and others were organized.

Through these councils it was planned to bring a clear understanding of genuine democracy and enable the people to define their own needs regarding health, education, social service and general living conditions.

GROCERS INDICTED

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 23.—Three grocers were today indicted by the Hamilton county grand jury on a charge of misbranding articles of food. It is alleged they offered for sale "coffee compound", the label on which did not bear the percentage of adulteration as reqquired by law. The jury in its report stated that there was no sugar hoarding here.

LABOR-CAPITAL BODY QUITS; PUBLIC GROUP REMAINS IN SESSION

SENATE VOTES STRONG TREATY RESERVATIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Compromises on peace treaty reservations are impossible so far as Republican and Democratic members of the foreign relations committee are concerned.

After two long sessions Wednesday during which an attempt was made to agree on a program of reservations that would get the support of both parties, leaders announced that the battle over reservations will be carried to the floor of the senate and fought out there.

Instead of modifying their original reservations, as insisted upon by the democratic minority, the republican majority of the foreign relations committee widened the scope of its program and strengthened some of the original planks in it.

The concrete results of the lengthy sessions behind closed doors, as they stand are:

1—The committee has voted to report favorably ten reservations and a preamble to the resolution of ratification which is regarded by some members of the committee as the equivalent of an amendment to the text of the treaty.

2—Three reservations have been passed over and will be taken up at the next meeting of the committee probably tomorrow.

3—With the exception of Senator Shields of Tennessee, Democrat, who voted consistently with the republicans on all important reservations the division was along party lines, the vote being 11 to 6.

4—Only once did Senator McCumber of North Dakota vote with the democrats Wednesday, although he voted with them consistently when the committee considered and reported textual amendments several weeks ago.

The only alignment of Senator McCumber with the democrats came on the vote to provide in the preamble that "ratification is not to take effect or bind the United States until the reservations and understandings have been accepted as a part and condition of the instrument of ratification by at least three of the four principal allied and associated powers."

GERMAN OPERA CASE HEARD IN NEW YORK COURT

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Argument on the legal merits of staging opera in German in this city, a procedure which has resulted in two riots in as many performances, came up today in supreme court.

The Star Opera Company, incorporated, which succeeded in presenting two German masterpieces at the Lexington theatre unde. police protection, was prepared to ask that a temporary injunction restraining city authorities from interfering with the opera be made permanent.

The temporary injunction granted yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Bijur, backed by heavy police protection, afforded the opera an opportunity to continue last night. More than 200 mounted police and patrolmen were required to keep a crowd of former service men and other civilians in check outside the theatre.

The performance of "Czar and Carpenter" was enlivened at the end of the first act when a man in one of the boxes threw five eggs at the singers on the stage. None of the eggs reached a human target but the thowing created great excitement in the audience, many leaving the theatre. The egg thrower was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

The rioting outside the theatre was more fierce thanthat which greeted the first performance Monday night. The police used clubs freely. A man in navy uniform was taken to a hospital in a serious condition, and a soldier suffered a broken hip. Others were cut and bruised when mounted police charged through the crowd to prevent it from approaching the theatre.

Another performance was promised for tonight.

General Convention of A. F. L. May Be Called in Session

From his sick bed in the White House, President Wilson, today dictated another letter to the national industrial conference. He was said to have urged that the conference proceed without representatives of labor in a final effort to frame some progress looking to the re-establishment of industrial peace.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—After announcing that he had received President Wilson's message, Chairman Lane declared the national industrial conference as originally constituted adjourned and immediately called the members of the public group in to session as a new conference.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Dissolution of the national industrial conference today as the result of the withdrawal of organized labor's representatives today seemed certain.

Chairman Lane still was hopeful that President Wilson would be able to find some way out, but in the absence of any word from the president leaders of both the public and capital groups were agreed that further sessions were useless.

"You cannot play Hamlet without Hamlet," said Thomas L. Chadbourne, chairman of the committee of fifteen. He added that he planned to recommend to the public group of which he is a member, that a committee be named to formulate a report to the president and then have the group disperse.

Bernard Baruch, chairman of the public group said he considered that the conference virtually had ended when the labor delegates withdrew last night. The issue is now before the public, Mr. Baruch said, and public opinion alone can decide.

Representatives of capital also were of the opinion that the sessions should not be prolonged. Delegates said the group would issue a statement defending its course in the conference and the principles for which it had contended.

Ask A. F. L. Convention

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 23.—Following the withdrawal of the labor group from the industrial conference at Washington the Illinois Federation of Labor in convention this morning authorized the sending of a message to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation and to members of the executive council, urging the immediate issuance of a call for a special convention of the American Federation of Labor in Washington.

R. R. Men's Demands

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Indications that railroad employes will demand granting of their demands for increased wages, time and a half overtime, the eight hour day and changes in working conditions before the railroads of the country are turned back by the government to private control is contained in testimony by Timothy Shea, chief of the Firemen's brotherhood, before the railroad administration's board of railway and working conditions.

Mr. Shea told the board during its hearing of the firemen's demands, according to the testimony published today that to members of his brotherhood was due an increase in wages, which, he said, "if I cannot get it out of this conference, it may be necessary to use other means, but I am going to get it."

ARREST STRIKEBREAKERS

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 22.—Thirty-two alleged strikebreakers arrested near here early today, are being held at police headquarters pending investigation of their stories that they had been hired as laborers and guards by Cleveland steel plants. The police acted on orders issued by Mayor Harry L. Davies prohibiting the importation of any strikebreakers to work in local steel mills.

Democratic Meetings.

THURSDAY EVENING

7:30—Biggest mass meeting of campaign, at Democratic headquarters in the Morris Arcade. Everybody invited.

FRIDAY NIGHT.

7:00—All democratic candidates will be present at the home of Mr. Fowler, 802 Holmes avenue. Everyone invited.

8:00—Meeting at Hawthorne grocery, Pine and Vine streets. All candidates will be present and everyone is invited.

Democratic headquarters Thursday night will be the scene of the most enthusiastic meeting of the present campaign. All the candidates will be present and will tell the voters, all of whom are invited just why they will win.

The air of confidence which has been rapidly increasing in the hearing of all the Democratic candidates, is certain to be contagious. Although the Democrats have not been tooting their horns and making a big hurrah each time their candidate, Frank Burkhardt, opens his mouth, yet they have been working hard, and have lined up the voters of the city, to see that the issue is really Burkhardt or Blank.

Republican Yells.

Although the republican press sets up a big yell, and give a half a page or so, to their candidate every time he talks to five or six people, voters of the city are not swallowing the sugared dope. Apparently on the surface the people are taking it all in, like the small town visitors to New York city, but behind it all the voters are showing that the old gag will work no longer.

With the handwriting on the wall becoming plainer each day, the G. O. P. is using the last desperate effort to stay defeat, and is stopping at nothing to win. The time worn cry of "Simpson or Socialism," has been brought back from the discard, and the word Simpson changed to Harley, and now once again it rings through the air, "Harley or Socialism."

Tired of Old Gang.

But it won't work. The people are tired of the old gang and their hand of politics. They are tired of the hot air and passing of the buck, which has been the policy of the G. O. P. ever since they have been in power. They are determined to clean out the whole gang.

With Harley's failure to repediate the gang, and his determination to hang by them, he has changed the mind of his followers until now his chances are not one in five of being elected.

Regardless of what straw votes have been taken. Regardless of where they are taken, or by whom, the voters of the city, know that straw votes are no indication of the real strength of candidates.

With the slip-shod methods of conducting straw votes, where no record is kept of the voters, many men vote who are under age and who will have no vote at the polls. Others vote many times.

Every time one of the gang opens his mouth he "puts his foot in it." Tuesday night at Republican headquarters, Harley let the cat-out-of-the-bag, when he said the old machine wanted to win this year's campaign, "IN ORDER TO BE READY FOR THE CAMPAIGN." And in this determination to win, the machine is certain to stop at nothing.

The calumny and small-town tactics which have been employed so far in the campaign by the whole G. O. P., shows clearly they are desperate.

Garling Vitrolic.

It is only necessary to turn back to a few of the speeches made by the candidates to show just how bitter they are against everything democratic. H. E. Garling, republican candidate for City Solicitor, supposedly a broad minded attorney, has stooped to such methods as belittling the name of President Wilson, who now lies sick on his back.

This spirit of mud-slinging and calumny on everything done by the democratic party is getting the people's nerves. To note the difference in the spirit of the two parties it is only necessary to turn back to the time when Garfield, republican president of the United States, lay in a critical condition nas the result of the bullet wound he received at the hand of his assassin. At that time one of the most bitter campaign ever waged in Ohio, was on foot. Old voters will recall that only the greatest deference and courtesy was shown.

Mr. Garfield, in fact the democrat party even went so far as to concede the election to the republicans, rather than drag the record of a sick man into the campaign. It is only necessary to watch the speeches of the various local candidates, to note the difference.

However the most laughable of tactics of the republican press, is their efforts to impress on the people of the city, the ENVIABLE record of the present administration. If the republican press could hear the real talk and feeling which is going on over the city, regarding the ENVIABLE record of the present administration they would know they are playing with fire, which will burn them up on NOV. 4.

ALLEN COUNTY CHAIRMAN SAYS OUR QUOTA OF ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL FUND WILL BE RAISED WITHOUT SOLICITATION

Under the direction of county chairman Eugene Lippincott, of the Campaign committee of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, plans are being carried out which will give every man, woman and child in the county a chance to make a voluntary donation, and in accordance with plans of the national association, Monday, October 27th, will be observed in all the public schools of the county as Roosevelt Day.

It is the intention of the association to raise $5,000,000 from voluntary subscriptions to be spent in a memorial to perpetuate the memory and principles of the late Colonel Roosevelt, and of this amount $4,175 is Allen county's share. "No one will be asked to contribute to this cause," said chairman Lippincott when interviewed, Thursday. "It is thought that our share will be raised easily by merely giving publicity to the cause without making any solicitations," he said.

Pamphlets giving a biographical sketch of the ex-president and a preliminary statement of the purposes of the association have been furnished to all the public schools in the county. This also contains suggestions as to the nature of entertainments to be given in the schools. Professor C. A. Argenbright is in charge of all the schools of the county outside of the cities of Lima and Delphos, while Professor H. R. Hicks is in charge at Delphos.

E. B. Mitchel of the City Bank, is treasurer of the association for the county and to him all subscriptions should be paid. When subscriptions are paid each person gets a receipt which will be sent to the headquarters of the national association and the subscriber will in return receive a finely lithographed certificate of membership, which will entitle him to an equal say with other members what the nature of the memorial shall be.

Building a monster shaft or monument in some city, probably Washington as has been suggested by some is not generally favored by the association as representative of the principles of the great American. The plan is being considered, however, of making the cemetery at Oyster Bay a national park dedicated to his memory. This would of course not entail the expenditure of a great deal of money and the plan receiving most favorable consideration for the real memorial is that the money be used for the establishment of a chair in the schools and universities of the country probably for teaching history, or some other study decided on later by the members of the association to be most in keeping with the way in which his memory should be perpetuated.

MARRIED 37 YEARS; NOW SEEKS DIVORCE

Over 37 years of married life culminated in a divorce suit when J. M. Cripe filed a petition for divorce from Jennie Cripe in common pleas court, Thursday.

The couple were married on November 15, 1882, in Wayne county, Indiana, according to Cripe's statement and there are two children, Leora Cripe, 36 and Carl E. Cripe, 31. The plaintiff avers his wife has been absent for over three years, entirely disregarding all marital duties and it has been necessary for him to room and board among strangers.

Echo In Lima Strike Trouble

Michael Reixinger was called into Justice Morris' court, Thursday morning, on an affidavit signed by John Siminouski, charging assault. Reixinger pleaded not guilty and waiving preliminary examination, was bound over to the grand jury. His bond was fixed at $50.

Siminouski was placed under a peace bond for $200 in police court, Wednesday, on a charge preferred by Reixinger in which he stated he had reason to fear bodily harm from Siminouski, who had made threats him. The altercation took place Wednesday morning at Fourth street and the B. & O. railroad tracks near the plant of the Ohio Steel Co., where Reixinger is employed. Siminouski was on duty as a picket.

IN JUSTICE COURT

An alleged violator of the fish and game laws was fined $10 in Justice Hamilton's court, when Harvey E. Kenner was brought in under a charge of using a trammel net for fishing in the Auglaize river. The charges were filed by Charles E. Hanes, deputy fish and gameprotector of Ohio, who confiscated the net.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S APPEAL TO INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

TO THE LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE:

I am advised by your chairman that you have come to a situation which appears to threaten the life of your conference, and because of that I am presuming to address a word of very solemn appeal to you as Americans. It is not for me to assess the blame for the present condition I do not speak in a spirit of criticism of any individual or of any group. But having called the conference I feel that my temporary indisposition should not bar the way to a frank expression of the seriousness of the position in which this country will be placed should you adjourn without having convinced the American people that you had exhausted your resourcefulness and your patience in an effort to come to some common agreement.

At a time when the nations of the world are endeavoring to find a way of avoiding international war, are we to confess that there is no method to be found for carrying on industry except in the spirit and with the very method of war? Must suspicion and hatred and force rule us in civil life? Are our industrial leaders and our industrial workers to live together without faith in each other, constantly struggling for advantage over each other, doing naught but what is compelled?

"My friends this would be an intolerable outlook, a prospect unworthy of the large things done by this people in the mastering of this continent, indeed, it would be an invitation to national disaster. From such a possibility my mind turns away, for my confidence is abiding that in this land we have learned how to accept the general judgment upon matters that affect the public weal. And this is the very heart and soul of democracy.

It is my understanding that you have divided upon one portion only of a possible large program which has not fully been developed. Before a severance is affected based upon present differences I believe you should stand together for the development of that full program touching the many questions within the broad scope of your investigations. It was in my mind when this conference was called that you would concern yourselves with the discovery of those methods by which a measurable co-operation within industry may have been secured and if new machinery needs to be designed by which a minimum of conflict between employers and employes may reasonably be hoped for, that we should make an effort to secure its adoption. It cannot be expected that at every step all parties will agree upon each proposition or method suggested. It is to be expected, however, that as a whole a plan or program can be agreed upon which will advance further the productive capacity of America through the establishment of a surer and heartier co-operation between all the elements engaged in industry. The public expects not less than that you shall have that one end in view and stay together until the way is found leading to that end or until it is revealed that the men who work and the men who manage American industry are so set upon divergent paths that all effort at co-operation is doomed to failure.

I renew my appeal with full comprehension of the almost incomparable importance of your tasks to this and to other peoples, and with full faith in the high patriotism and good faith of each other that you push your task to a happy conclusion.

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON

SAYS HUBBY FORCED HER TO WORK HARD

Ova Bernice Zimmerman charges her husband forced her to work in the fields, cutting corn and oats and that he nagged, scolded and swore at her, in a petition filed in common pleas court asking to be divorced from James Dale Zimmerman.

In the petition she charges gross neglect of duty, extreme cruelty and non-support. Because of his idleness and reckless conduct, she says he could not properly support her and he objected to her receiving the necessaries of life from friends. In addition to this, she says, he talked insultingly about her to other people.

The couple were married at Wapakoneta, October 17, 1918, she says, and that they have been separated since October 20th, this year. There are no children.

GRIDIRON CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Members of the Gridiron Club, made up of young members of the Rotary Club who meet bi-weekly to discuss current questions, held their regular dinner at the Elks Club Wednesday evening.

The subject for discussion was "Capital and Labor" and the member s,all of whom are required to speak at least for a few minutes at each meeting, brought out many lines of thought on the question that has overshadowed all others at this time.

TO ANALYZE WATER.

A sample of the water of Sugar Creek taken from a point near the state hospital is in the hands of J. T. Travers, connected with the state game and fish division. The water was taken for the purpose of analysis, as it was reported that the water at this point was polluted from sewage from the state hospital, and was the cause of the mysterious deaths of hundreds fish found last summer along the banks of the stream.

INFANT DIES.

Hazel N. Morrow, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morrow, 143 Harrison avenue died at the home of the parents this morning following a short illness. She was born February 27th of this year. Twin sisters Frances and Blanche, and two brothers Joanathan and Dwight survive her. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Will Not Send State Troops to Cleveland Now

Cleveland, O., Oct. 23.—Reports that state or federal troops would be sent to Cleveland to handle disturbances in connection with the steel strike were denied by Lieutenant Colonel John Bingham, assistant adjutant general of the Ohio militia, today when he completed an inspection of conditions here.

"As long as the situation remains as quiet as it is now no troops will be sent, as they are not needed," said Bingham. "I will report to Governor Cox, who sent Lieutenant Colonel J. S. Shetler, assistant quartermaster general, and myself here, to that effect. We will return to Cleveland later, however.

Bingham said they had talked to strike pickets and the latter had promised not to use violence on men who wanted to go back to work. They would use only moral suasion, promised him they would caution the strikers to refrain from violence.

Seven men were to be arraigned in police court today as a result of disturbances about the central furnace of the Otis Steel Company, last night in which three men were seriously injured.

FINED ON HUNTING CHARGE

BUCYRUS.—James and John May and Sherman Strouse all of Shelby, were fined $100, and $5 costs each on a charge of hunting out of season. L. M. Paste, game warden, preferred the charge.

Making Your Vote Count

THE BALANCE of power in the coming municipal election will be swung by the members of the republican party who have determined to vote against the candidate hand picked by the leaders of that party, Colonel John Harley.

These voters are unable to conscientiously vote for Harley because he has not only refused to repudiate the present city hall gang, but has openly endorsed it, never losing an opportunity to say something good for the occupants of City Hall.

Nearly everyone else in Lima knows that the present administration has been a cruel joke upon the men of the city who cast their ballots for Simpson two years ago. They know that the administration has muddled things up generally and has accomplished little. And they know that if Harley is elected the same gang will remain in power.

Therefore a word of caution to these republican voters is timely. They will not vote for Harley. Some of them have expressed their intention of voting for another candidate, who represents a party that is merely opposed to everything and does not offer any tangible solution to any of the problems of the day.

On the other hand, a vote for Frank Burkhardt will do two things. It will mean a clean sweep in City Hall, and everyone agrees that a change of faces is necessary, and it will cause the election of a man who makes tangible promises of a clean administration, with no favors to anyone and a square deal all around.

Frank Burkhardt, despite the mudslinging of the gang organ, represents no corporation. That he has worked at day labor for a railroad does not mean that he will play traitor to his fellow citizens.

Everyone who knows Frank Burkhardt knows that he is square and will keep his promises. He has given his signed promise that, when elected, he will at all times work for the city's best interests.

Therefore the place for the republican voter, who will not stand for gang methods, to mark his ballot is at the side of the name of Frank Burkhardt. The voter who does so will be performing his best duty to the city and himself as a citizen.

Not Spending All They Earn

IT IS a common enough saying that the working people are spending all they can earn; that the high wages received are being dissipated, and that when a recession comes it will find the people who have been receiving high wages without a cent. But it is not true.

There is more money deposited in the savings banks and building associations than ever before. There are more depositors and their accounts are greater. It has always been the case that many people spend all they make, no matter what they are earning, but there have never been so many of them saving something as right now, according to the statements issued by the savings associations.

There is a great temptation to spend, naturally. There are many people who, for the first time, can have luxuries -and they feel that they are entitled to them, since luxuries have so long been denied them. The working girl who has never before been privileged to wear silk hose naturally wants to wear them as soon as she finds she is making money enough to buy a pair—and who can blame her? The home that has been without a piano or other musical instrument, is likely to make an investment as soon as the family income enables it to do so. And yet people criticize the buying of expensive instruments, and talk about the working people spending all they make!

Let us trust that there will be no halt in prosperity; that we shall not have to have an industrial or financial depression before everything is readjusted. But we need not worry about there being nothing saved up for the "rainy day." There is a good deal saved up, and the amount is increasing—which is not to advise reckless spending. There is great need of economy; there has always been great need of it, and always will be. But there is more wealth per capita now hoarded than has ever before been the case.

Fighting the "Flu"

IF FEAR of the "flu" is natural, it should be as natural to fight it properly. To those who have been solicitous concerning a recurrence of the epidemic, let it be said that state officials do not anticipate a return of the disease with the power and spread which marked its appearance last winter and early spring. Ohio health authorities, nevertheless, are preparing against an emergency and have given attention to the needs of our people.

Health officers have been instructed to guard against an outbreak, and the federal public health service is co-operating to ward off any semblance of a general epidemic. Last year the disease got under way in September. This month already has passed into history with nothing to indicate the health of our people has been seriously threatened. Keep your mental balance this winter. Do not unnecessarily become alarmed. Pay strict heed to official suggestions. It would not be at all surprising, this being done, if we escape the influenza this year.

GOOD EVENING—"There is no person absentminded enough to be able to forget as many things as he would like to forget."

They say that China maintains one chicken for every inhabitant, but we suspect that there are some evenings if one should walk around Shanghai's streets he'd be led to believe there were about a dozen chickens for every inhabitant.

A paper wants to know in an editorial headline "Who Is Responsible?" but we suppose the vox populi will remain silent until it finds out what has happened and whether it will gain or lose votes by being responsible.

HAPPY THOUGHT—Breathes there a man with soul so dead who never to himself hath said that he knows he could run somebody else's business better than it is being run!

WHAT "NEURITIS" REALLY IS— HOW RELIEF MAY BE HAD

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

When many careless persons find an arm, hand, leg, foot or other member troublesome to use, sore, painful or otherwise out of function, the victim, as a rule, is content to have the trouble called "neuritis" or some other handy name without regard to the occupation which may cause the disorder.

A recent patient complained of neuralgia of the ankles. She said that she had had the affected area manipulated, massaged, electrified, drugged, baked and otherwise treated, but without permanent relief.

An examination showed a real cause of ankle ache was her work. The woman was a seamstress who ran a machine day in and day out with the affected foot. A change in her daily labor, whereby the affected ankle received a rest, speedily resulted in relief.

Clearly, unlike a rose, there are various things besides fragrance to show that full many a neutritis is born to blush and be seen, and be so-called, when it really deserves a different name.

The mere observation that sensitiveness and soreness follows the course of a nerve is not enough to have it named and be done with. The nerve may be inflamed and disturbed from a huge variety of causes. Whatever its origin, the source of the mischief must be removed before the ailment can be permanently done away with.

How Nerves Look

True enough, the victim ought not to suffer meanwhile. If the toilsome duties are responsible, sedatives may be given while awaiting the logical subsidence of the symptoms or the removal of the cause.

A nerve is white and composed of a bundle of fine white threads. Inside each thread is a finer hair-like filament, which carries the messages from the outer world and the senses up through the brain and spinal cord to the whole flesh.

When some of the internal, hair-like filaments of the nerve threads are cut, squeezed, mashed, destroyed or paralyzed the nearby ends shrivel up and waste away. This is called "degeneration" of the nerve, and is in evidence when the distant head unit or "cell" of the nerve in the spinal cord or brain becomes diseased as in infantile paralysis, paresis, locomotor and other ailments.

Ways to Benefit

One group of nerve fibrils—that is, one nerve cord—may thus degenerate as in facial paralysis, when the seventh nerve on one side is affected, or a little bundle of nerves, as when the arm or leg is palsied from infantile paralysis.

If two kinds of electricity, galvanic and faradic, are applied immediately after the injury to the half of the face, the arm, leg or other part involved, and the treatment is kept up twice a day for several months ,the degenerated nerve fibrils often regenerate and the paralyzed part is fully or partly restored to its original state of health.

If this is not begun at once in some special types of paralysis and neuralgia the nerve never recovers, and the muscles shrink and waste away. This thins and shortens the limb or member and remains a lifelong blemish or deformity.

Gray hen, tough finger nails, loss of pigment in the skin—leucoderma, loss of sensation of pain, heat, cold and touch are all forms of degenerated nerve fibres.

Sunlight, athletics, fresh air, laxative green vegetables, fruits, cold and hot baths alternately, electricity, milk, eggs, meat and action, all aid the new growth of nerves.

Answers to Health Questions.

W. W. Q—What can I do for perspiring feet?

A—Bathe the feet in formalin, one-half teaspoonful to a pint of water. Bathe them each night in warm water, wear non-leather shoes and thin hose. Change the latter every morning.

ELINOR. Q—Kindly advise me what to do for superfluous hair?

A—Remember that there are few if any methods to kill the roots. Most expedients are, like cleaning the teeth or washing the face, to be frequently repeated. About twice a week or when needed try a little of the following:

Calcium sulphide .... 2 parts
Zinc oxide ..... 1 part
Starch ..... 1 part

When ready to use this make a paste, with water and apply to the parts. Let it remain on the skin for about five minutes and then wipe off gently with a soft cloth.

A CONSTANT READER. Q—Is there a cure for cigarette smoking? If so, kindly advise me.

A—First, the will to stop must be invoked. Then gum or caramel candies should be chewed when the impulse to smoke appears. Supperv elm, licorice balls, and a full stomach counteract the craving. Glycerine of tannin may be applied to the gums and smoke thirsty parts.

B. I. B. Q—What can I do for superfluous hair?

A—Remember that there are few if any methods to kill the roots. Most expedients are, like cleaning the teeth or washing the face, to be frequently repeated. About twice a week or when needed try a little of the following.

Calcium sulphide .... 2 parts
Zinc oxide ..... 1 part

When you are ready to use this make a paste wit hwater and apply to the parts. Let it remain on the skin for about five minutes and then wipe off gently with a soft cloth.

MARY. A—If you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your query repeated, I will be glad to answer your questions.

Dr. Hirshberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address ALL INQUIRIES to Dr. L. K. Hirshberg, in care of this office.

THE PUBLIC LETTERBOX

Letters intended for publication in the Public Letter Box positively MUST be signed, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Unsigned communications are thrown away. Write on one side of the sheet only.

PASS THE TREATY.

Editor Times:—

I desire to offer personal commendation for your timely publication of the statements of Senator Watson that, "Reds and other radicals are intrenched in the Government Departments." Knowing this to be true indeed after personally detecting a few avowed Bolshevikes now in the Post office at Chicago and having written the Department at Washington calling attention to it. Would ask how long before our politically dumb citizenship will awake to the fact and a tack this menace. For 20 years the Hun worked his propaganda under our lofty visions and Bolshivism is its outgrowth. Yet a few at Washington are, and have been trying to kill the treaty, that our administration may negotiate a separate one with Germany: Alas, and may I ask, "Are we drifting."

Respy Yours,
F. H. Moyer

Elida, O., Oct. 23, 1919.

Dear John: Am over in Elida for a few days visiting Cousin Sally. This is certainly a nice town, funny too how wise the folks over here are, for I asked quite a number of them where they had their glasses fitted and with out an exception they all replied, that Mr. Frankle, the optometrist at Hughes and Son, had done their work for they felt that no one was better fitted to examine their eyes than an optometrist. Sounds good don't it John.

Yours
MARY.

Short Stories of the Buckeye State

WHEN CHAFFEE ENLISTED

When Adna R. Chaffee was yet a pupil in the little country school near Orwell, Ashtabula county, he organized the other boys in the school into a military company and drilled them. He was 19 years old when the Civil war opened and had the satisfaction of seeing practically all the boys of that school company enlist for service in the Union armies.

He himself decided to go to Columbus and enlist with the 23rd O. V. I. that was there organizing. He started for the state capital intending to join the regiment of which W. S. Rosecrans was the first colonel and of which Rutherford B. Hayes Justice Stanley Matthews and William McKinley were members, but at Warren on the way down something happened that turned him into another path.

A poster announcing that recruits were wanted for the regular army caught his eye as he walked along the main street and stopping for a minute to read it, he heard a voice saying: "Young man, don't you want to join the army?" Turning, he say a lithe young fellow in the uniform of a captain of regulars standing in a doorway. It proved to be Charles Russell Lowell, a nephew of James Russell Lowell, a recent graduate of Harvard, who had been given a commission in one of the new regiments that President Lincoln had ordered, and was sent at once into Ohio to recruit it.

Before their interview ended Chaffee had decided to join the regular cavalry regiment and held his hand up to be sworn in July 22, 1861. He never left the army until the day of his death, bearing the rank of major general. On Aug. 5 the 25 or 30 recruits secured left Warren for Salem in three farm wagons, to take the train there for Pittsburgh. It rained hard on them all the way. One of the survivors says that if any of them had been told that one of their number would reach the rank of major general none of them would have picked out the quiet and reserved Adna Chaffee as the one. Charles Russell Lowell was killed at Cedar Creek in October, 1684, after a long and gallant service.

OUR BED-TIME STORY

FOR TINY TIMES-DEMOCRAT FOLKS

I wish that I could tell you that Jack and Jane and their friends spent the next week or two having a pleasant time in Naples, visiting all of the interesting places in the city, going around the bay in a boat, visiting the warships and all such things. But I can't. For their good time was ended suddenly.

Now, what do you suspect happened.

Well, here's what did and how it came about.

Jack and Jane were kidnaped—stolen right away from Ladydear and Captain Brave as the children and their friends were enjoying themselves one day. If anyone ever had told the children it was possible for someone to touch them while great big Captain Brave and kind Ladydear were near, neither youngster would have believed it. But that's what happened.

Here's how it came about. But we'll have to go back a little bit in our story first.

You remember that Jack and Jane had met Signor Angelo, a very rich Italian automobile maker, while in Switzerland, and had became great friends with him. He had taken them riding often in his car. A man tried to steal the car one day in Lucerne and when Signor Angelo went to the courthouse to have the man sent to prison he found that the thief was a member of a band of thieves from Italy. Signor Angelo had helped capture many of this band with his fast auto.

The attorneys who tried to keep the thief from being sent to prison were the men who had defended the other members.

I suspect, by this time, you have guessed that the thieves were the ones who kidnapped Jack and Jane. They were.

After the man had been put in prison the attorneys told the band that it was Signor Angelo who had wanted him punished. So they determined to get revenge. They knew that simply stealing his auto would not be very much punishment because, being so rich, he could easily get another one. They were sure too, that if they injured him in any way the police of all Italy would hunt them down. They were trying hard to think of some other way to get revenge when one of their number, who had been watching Signor Angelo for many days, told them about the two little children with whom he had become such great friends. When the band learned that Jack and Jane were Americans, touring the world with an American flier and his wife, they were tickled.

"We'll kidnap the two children as soon as we can after they leave Signor Angelo. Then we will send word to this Captain Brave that Signor Angelo has ordered us to take the children away. This will make the captain and lady angry at him. Captain Brave will ask the Italian government, through the American ambassador, to find the children and threw Signor Angelo in jail for kidnapping them. We will keep the children until he is in prison. Then we may return them to their friends—if Captain Brave will give us enough money."

Tomorrow we'll hear how they arranged to steal Jack and Jane.

National Legislation of the Meat Packing Industry

1. Will not increase the amount of meat you can buy for a dollar.
2. Will not raise more animals.
3. Will not produce more meat.
4. Will not stop fluctuations in live-stock receipts or prices.
5. Will not increase the output of the packing houses.
6. Will not prevent strikes.
7. Will not reduce transportation charges.
8. Will not reduce the retailer's cost of doing business.
9. Will not increase the demand for the cheaper cuts of meat.
10. Will not lessen the consumers' demand for expensive delivery and credit service.
11. Can not at the same time raise prices paid farmers for live stock, and lower prices paid by consumers for meat.

But the slowing up of efficiency due to cumbersome governmental routine will have the effect of increasing the manufacturing charges between the cost of live stock and the cost of meats, thus forcing lower live-stock prices or higher meat prices.

The packing industry as now conducted, is characterized by keen competition, highest efficiency, and unusually low profits.

OTTAWA

OLD RAILWAY AT OTTAWA TORN UP

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—The funeral of Mrs. H. W. Schnitzschaffe will be held from SS Peter and Paul's church, Friday a. m, She was 72 years of age, a pioneer of the village. Is survived by a husband, three daughters and one son.

There will be a home-coming celebration at the Radical church, Rushmore, Sunday, Oct. 26. All soldiers are invited to be present.

There will be a Hallowe'en social and masquerade at the Rushmore School hall Friday evening.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. E. E. Walkup gave her a suprise between supper, Tuesday evening, as several are going before January to Hope, Ariz. After the feast of good things, Mrs. F. P. Sprague made a presentation speech, pinning a cameo on the guest of honor. Ottawa regrets losing this family, who has been active in church circles and all public enterprises. The Missionary Society, of which Mrs. Walkup is a member, presented her with a sterling spoon, at its last meeting.

Wm. Jennings Bryan will speak here Oct. 27, at 1 p. m.

Elizabeth Beck, Home Service Secretary Red Cross, is in attendance at a conference of state chapters of the national Red Cross, and Home Secretaries, at Cleveland.

A little over 30 years ago, Ottawa granted franchise to an east and west road to build and operate a track on Fourth street, in hopes that it would be an unlimited boom to the town. Because some of the property holders objected to the action of the council, and in order that an injunction could not be served, to prohibit the laying of a track, it was done on Sunday, when no official papers could be procured. The road was operated for nearly 30 years, the hope of the wonderful growth of the village was not realized. In the night, when the town was peacefully sleeping, the track was torn up, no one realizing it till toward morning, when the moon appeared, herself in bad shape, winking one eye on the destruction on Fourth street, between Hickory and Locust, when the Findlay, Ft. Wayne and Western track was torn up. Trains had not been running for some time.

Literary clubs will have Hallowe'en festivities at their respective meeting places next week.

ST. MARYS

DAMAGE CASE IS AFFIRMED 8 TIMES

ST. MARYS, Oct. 23.—Judgment in favor of Bessie Hinton(now Mrs. Dan Whitehead) in her suit for damages against the Auglaize Box Board company, was yesterday affirmed for the second time in the Ohio state supreme court. This decision is said to be final so far as Ohio courts are concerned. It marks the ninth time the case has come up. In eight instances finding was had for Bessie Hinton. The suit is several times familiar in common pleas and appeals courts.

Box Board attorneys are said to intimate they may carry the case to the United States supreme court. The cost of such action is given at about five hundred dollars. With the costs already attending transfer from court to court, together with attorney fees, the aggregate is estimated at considerably more than the original amount ($5,000 more or less) asked by Bessie Hinton for the loss of a hand in a machine at the old box factory operated by the Bloomer Brothers Company.

Fair health is experienced at the age of ninety-four years by Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts. She has a place in the front row of St. Marys' senior citizens.

The patriarchal lady reached her anniversary on Wednesday, October 22,1919. No special observance marked the date. Mrs. Roberts expected to call on one of her neighbors. Except for dim eyesight, she is able to get about fairly well.

Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts makes her home with her son, William Roberts, 208 South Webb Street, St. Marys, Ohio. Friends and kinsfolk unite in wishing her continued health and welfare.

Five Ford tires with the inner tubes, valued at one hundred twenty-five dollars, are missing from new vehicles received today via the T. & O. C., by Henry Brinkmeyer. The rubber circles were stripped from the wheels, leaving the latter in place. Such act is said to be comparatively easy for anyone understanding the auto mechanics.

The box car whence the tires are missing had been on the road since the 13th of October. Delayed transit, Mr. Brinkmeyer thinks, may have to do with the chance for making a steal. A claim will be placed to recover the value of the stolen goods.

DELPHOS

DELPHOS CITIZEN SUDDENLY STRICKEN

DELPHOS, Oct. 23.—Thomas Mills, 65 years of age, suffered a stroke of apoplexy at his home at 502 South Pierce street Tuesday evening.

Mr. Mills retired at about 7:30 apparently in good health. About half an hour later he was found by Mrs. Mills in an unconscious condition. He had not complained of being ill and the stroke was entirely unexpected.

His condition is very serious, practically no hope being entertained for his recovery.

Chief Thompson wishes to call the attention of the boys of the city to the use which they have been making of firearms lately and to request that the practice be discontinued.

A number of complaints have been made concerning the use of firearms by the young boys. In many cases the practice has been due to the presence in large numbers of blackbirds and the desire of the people to rid themselves of this nuisance. The chief suggests that the adults themselves use the rearms in these cases and that no children be permitted to do so.

Winter is approaching. This fact is evidenced in various ways these days. The changing colors of the leaves, the number of parties of boys and men who are hunting Hickory nuts and fall mushrooms all testify to the approach of King Winter.

One of the surest signs of the approach of cold weather, however, was in evidence at the police station Tuesday night when the first applicant of the season for a free bed was recorded.

VAN WERT

YOUNG MAN KILLED BY ELECTRIC WIRE

VAN WERT, Oct. 23.—Gale Stetler, 20 years of age, was instantly killed at his home near Willshire, when he was electrocuted, through contact with a "live" electric wire.

The accident occurred two miles southeast of town while the young man was endeavoring to disentangle contact formed by a light wire falling across a telephone wire. The shock threw him a distance of thirty feet from the pole. He is reported to have succumed immediately to the shock.

Mr. Stetler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Stetler, of Willshire and was well known in Van Wert. He was a graduate of the Van Wert high school of the class of last year and a highly respected young man of the community. He is survived by his parents, three brothers and two sisters.

It is believed that the accident was caused by the burning out of a transformer, causing a pole to burn and allowing the wire to fall. The high tension current in some manner came in contact with the boy and he was killed instantly. The line is operated by the Rockford Lighting Co., and carried the current to Willshire.

When Cliff Bodikear was arranged before Mayor Gamble on a charge of conducting a poker game and was fined $50 and costs, the last of the eight men placed under arrest in the raid conducted by police has been fined. Bodikear left town at the time of the raid and until yesterday was not brought into court.

HARRY MOREY
In Cyrus Townsend Brady's Story
"The Man Who Won"
A Powerful Drama of Mystery and Love

SCENE IN COSMO HAMILTONS BRILLIANT COMEDY, "SCANDAL," AT THE FAUROT TONIGHT.

AMUSEMENTS

A widely renowned Chicago critic has roasted "Listen Lester," which played the Faurot last night to a turn, not only once but repeatedly. A big audience of Lima folks who filled the Faurot to capacity last night have come to the conclusion that Percy must have had the tummy-ache or somethin' when he wrote the reviews, for certainly the local audience was pleased with the production.

Full of tuneful music, pretty girls that could really sing and a couple of principals that were true artistes what more could be asked of a production. Of course it is of the latest model 1920 brand of girlie-affairs, but the public must like these kind of attractions for seemingly 90 per cent of them are framed that way these days. The scenic effects were beautiful for "Listen Lester," there was a tune or two that you whistled as you walked to your car and a pleasant taste lingered—so why couldn't you call "Listen Lester" a big success.

We see now why the crowds keep going and going to the production after the critics had given it repeated pannings, and from now on we are going to hunt up the shows they roast and buy a front row ticket every time!

Tonight we have "Scandal," a piece that has scored great success in New York, which to the theatrical mind means everywhere, and as it comes with an ideal cast, we may expect another treat of an entirely different sort from the musical, swinging "Listen Lester."

FAUROT—"SCANDAL" TONIGHT

"Scandal," Walter Hast's production of Cosmo Hamilton's comedy which has created a positive furors in Chicago, and is now breaking all box-office records for a dramatic attraction in New York city, will be seen at the Faurot Opera House tonight.

Mr Hamilton, has succeeded in evolving a starling and unparalled blot which will pique the curiosity and command the fascinated interest of the most blase theatregoers, viz., Pelham Franklin in the play says, "she doesn't give a solitary curse for her reputation, or for mine or he family's. I thought I could force my way into her heart but she hasn't got one." Beatrix Venderdyke says, "I am going to do him what he did to me that night in my bedroom. I'm going to jab the spurs into him. I'm going to lead him on until he loses his head and then laugh in his face." Then again she says, "There's no need to carry your strong man performance further. You've convinced me that all the advantages of civilization have been wasted on me. I'll take it for granted they mean just as little to you." Was she right? Brilliant, penetrating in its study of life, vivid in its portrayal of American society, wholesome in its point of view, these are the characterization of "Scandal," a romance of universal appeal. It is convincing because it pictures the hearts and minds of men and women in their social relations. "Scandal" will stand not work, but as one of the notable achievements of the American stage.

Mr. Hast is sending a company here for uniform excellence.

AT THE LYRIC.

Remember those stories in which you were never sure which was the hero and which the villain? Liked them, didn't you? You did not lay aside the book until you had finished the story. Well, Cyrus Townsend Brady has written another of the same kind in which Vitagraph features Harry T. Morey, entitled "Tho Man Who Won." This picture will be shown at the Lyric theater today.

The story deals with an American who has faced death and harships in the fight to obtain a precious metal. He wins and fortune smiles upon him for one brief instant. Fate plunges him into the midst of trying and mysterious circumstances. He is robbed of his memory and surrounded by powerful enemies who would deprive him of his treasure.

AT THE REGENT.

Filmed on the far shore of Lesser Slave Lake, north of the fifty-sixth parallel, where the temperature was never higher than fifty degrees below zero, that much-heralded picture, "Back to God's Country," will open an engagement of one week, beginning today at the Regent It is First National attraction and was produced under the personal direction of the author, James Oliver Curwood

One tragedy marked the filming of the picture, Ronald Byron, a leading member of the cast, lost his life in the frozen waters where the principal scenes are laid Many members of the cast, which is headed by Nell Shipman, suffered frozen ears and feet It was the first time in the history of motion pictures that a picture was made in the arctics Dogs, bears, mountain lions, deer, porcupines, wolves, otters, wildcats and nine other species of animal actors are used in the picture.

ORPHEUM

An extra added attraction of splendid quality, in addition to a headline offering of very first magnitude, make notable the vaudeville bill of five big-time acts for the last half of this week at the Orpheum, opening at the matinee this afternoon at 2.30 o clock and two shows tonight, at 7 30 and 9. The headliner is Fred and Eva Hurley and their "Oh, Say Girls," a miniature musical comedy company of bewitching proportions, while the extra added attraction is the Four American Beauties, called one of vaudeville's greatest comedy harmony quartettes

While Fred and Eva Hurley and their "Oh, Say Girls," are the all-week headliners at the Orpheum, they will offer a complete change of program from that given the first half of the week. For today, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, they will present "Putting It Over," which is described as a farce operretta which abounds in irresistibly funny situations, in catchy new song hits, graceful novelty dance numbers, gorgeous new costumes and special new scenery, stage settings and electrical effects. Everything is different from the extravaganza offered the first half. Featured in "Putting It Over," are the Hurleys," the Three Harmony Hummers, Frank Manley, Jack Noff and the singing and dancing chorus of ten beautiful girls.

The Four American Beauties come to the Orpheum direct from tremendous successes at the B. F. Keith theatres in the big cities of this section. Every song is exclusive and was writter especially for this act. Each of the quartette possesses a rarely beautiful voice and either is capable of being featured as a soloist. Singing together, their harmony is declared to be magnificent Harry Gilbert is a dialect singing comedian. In addition to being genuinely funny, Gilbert has a good voice, which he uses to advantage. His monologue is called excruciating in its mirth provoking qualities, while his parodies on topical and popular songs are new and delightful.

"The Bandmaster and His Band" are Wilson and Wilson, who appear in a musical novelty with comedy as one of its biggest hits featured. "Love's Young Dream" is a satire of song, dance and dialogue presented by Saxton and Farrell.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLUB.

The Domestic Science Club, held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Wallace Landis, of South Collett street, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. T. C. Pennell, presided charmingly over the discussions of the afternoon, which all centered about jelly making. Some very good ideas were exchanged and new suggestions made.

In order to further carry out the idea of the "Jelly Making," each member brought a glass of jelly, which was presented to the Day Nursery.

The paper of the afternoon on, "Conservation of Food, Fuel and Physical Strength," was given by Mrs. Albert E. Gale. A proposal was accepted by the club to make a comforter for the new home for girls, to be established by the Missionary Societies of Trinity Methodist Church. Mrs. G. I. Wallace submitted the proposal.

Guests were Mrs. Fred Bradley, Mrs. Charles Shappell, Mrs. J. W. Blackburn, Mrs. J. M. Mills, Mrs. Charles Rhoda, Mrs. R. A. Buchanan, Mrs. Edward Garling and Mrs. H. S. Marten.

In two weeks, Mrs. Harry Chapman, of West High Street, will entertain the club.

BREAKFAST FOR WOMEN

Many notable entertainments will be given during the Convention of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Association to be held in Dayton, November 8th and 9th.

One of the handsomest affairs of the convention will be the breakfast, which Governor James M. Cox will give at the Miama Hotel, Sunday morning at eleven thirty.

Mrs. E. G. Burkham, Jr., wife of the publisher and editor of the Dayton Journal and Herald will entertain with a tea in their home, Saturday afternoon. Previous to the tea there will be an automobile ride through Hills and Dales, the beautiful estate of John H. Patterson, head of the National Cash Register.

It was first planned to entertain the women at the Old Barn Club, but more recent arrangements have been made and rooms engaged at the Miami Hotel for delegates.

The Saturday evening banquet will be at the National Cash Register Club, as will also be the luncheon of Saturday.

COUNT FIFTY! NO RHEUMATIC PAIN

Don't Suffer Instant Relief Follows a Rubbing With Old "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Stop "dosing" rheumatism.

It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Liniment" conquers pain! It is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia and reduces swelling.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

SOCIAL CIRCLE CLUB.

Mrs. R. D. Hubbard, welcomed the members of the Social Circle Club, to her home Wednesda, afternoon. There was a record attendance and the meeting a very enjoyable one.

Particularly worthy of comment were the house decorations, all attractively arranged an dthe Hallowe'en ideas carried out to perfection. Baskets of large yellow chysanthemums furnished the floral part of the adornment.

There was a contest, Mrs. Carl Must winning the prize, while the hostess was presented with a dainty gift, the usual club prize.

Mrs. Hubbard was assisted in serving by Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Howe, who were also guests. A very delicious tea was served to the assembled company.

SUNSET CLUB.

Sunset club was entertained handsomely at the home of Mrs. Clay Cotterman, of South Pine street, Wednesday afternoon. Every wehre there were little appointments bespeaking the early approach of that witch-infested season, known as Hallowe'en. A yellow and black coole scheme added greatly to the brightness of the rooms.

Mrs. F. L. Teal had a paper, "The Origin of Hallowe'en." Mrs. Leora Helsel played a beautiful piano solo. In the contest Mrs. Howard Helmar won the prize. Miss Ada Ransbottom was a guest. Hrs. Helsel was admitted to membership at this meeting.

Mrs. William Carpenter of the Elektron Apartments wil entertain the club in two weeks.

MERCY CIRCLE.

Mrs. Carl Fletcher, of North Washington street, welcomed the members of the Mercy Circle, of Kings Daughters, to her home for an all day sewing Wednesday. A delicious luncheon was served at noon with the assistance of Mrs. Grace Enck, Mrs. Frank Boone and Mrs. Mack Colt.

Work during the day was done on the little garments for the visiting nurse and other charitable organizations.

A feature of the meeting was the presence of Mrs. D. B. Maurer, president of the Ministering Circle of Toledo, who presented her paper, "Pitching the Tune," the one which she gave at the State meeting in Bellefontaine several weeks ago. It was splendid and effectiveness with good thoughts and news of the doings of the Mercy Circles throughout the world.

Mrs. Frank Boone, the local representative to the state meeting in Bellefontaine, gave a very thorough and a very pleasing report of the convention.

Mrs. Frank Moke, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, reported that there will be a benefit soon to be given for the Circle. The exact nature of it will be announced later. Mrs. Clinton Sealts, of West Market street, will entertain the members of the Circle at their next regular meeting.

Mrs. Marten Barrett, of North West street, has returned after visiting with relatives for two months in New York.

LXIII—DISPELLING SUSPICION

Back at the club-house, I went immediately to arrange my hasty coiffure. A touch of rouge and powder restored me to normal poised self. When I rejoined John Manning on the veranda, I was really enjoying the affair which appealed to my dramatic tacts, with the exception of a pang of remorse at the situation I had created for Beth Carlton.

John Manning ordered cool drinks and we were sipping them leisurely, when Mrs. Franklin Lamar came onto the veranda.

Her start of surprise when she saw me, caused me an inward chuckle.

"Why, when did you get back, Mrs. Tindall?" she asked, approaching us.

"Get back?" I echoed sweetly. "I haven't gone anywhere yet?"

She gave me a puzzled glance.

"But I thought I saw you going off in Captain Frazier's car this afternoon."

"What a quaint idea!" I returned carelessly. "When I am Mr. Manning's guest too. It doesn't seem quite probable, does it?"

I saw her eyes lingering on Beth Carlton's turquoise sweater.

"It looked like you," she said slowly.

"Don't tell me I've a counterpart." I cried in mock alarm. "It would be too common-place, and think what situations an indiscreet 'double' might get me into. Here I've been sitting demurely on the edge of the golf links watching the newest member play the eighteenth hole by lantern-light, while my counterpart was running away with a dangerous army officer. What's the reward of virtue anyway?"

Mrs. Lamar murmured some vague reply and left us.

"You carried that off very well," said John Manning. "I think you'll pull out of this all right."

"But Mrs. Carlton," I protested. "How will she fare?' And it's all my fault. I ought to be spanked really. Beth thinks she owes me an absurd debt—thats why she is doing it, but you—I don't know why you should be so kind after I had treated you with such unpardonable rudeness?"

"I think I told you once that if you ever needed assistance, moral, spiritual or financial, you should come to me," suggested John Manning.

"Which do you think this was—moral, spiritual or financial?

"I am sure that your morals were never for a moment endangered," said John Manning confidently.

"Thank you for believing in me, dear kind friend," I said softly, thrilled with gratitude.

We were still sitting there, chatting easily, when Paul strode onto the veranda. By the dim bracket lights, his face showed no trace of the expression he had won in his wild drive up the river road. It was touched only by anxiety, which vanished instantly at sight of me.

"Paul!" I sprang up with a cry of well-simulated surprise. "I thought you were in Chicago."

"Something turned up to change my mind, so I left the train at Pittsburgh. Tell you later. But where have you been? I've searched the whole place for you."

"Out on the golf links watching the newest member play the eighteenth hole by lantern light." I replied promptly.

"Mrs. Lamar said she thought she saw you going off for a drive in Captain Frazier's car," said Paul elaborately casual.

"So she told me,' I returned carelessly. "She seemed awfully disappointed to find me here.'

Paul laughed with the pointless mirth that follows relief from anxiety. It wasn't until John Manning had dropped us at the hotel that he became serious.

"Nell, I wish you would cut your friendship with Mrs. Carlton," he said abruptly.

"Why?" I querried with a sharp pang of remorse.

"Because it was she who went off in Captain Frazier's car, I found her with him at the bungalow. No decent woman would go alone at night to the house of a man as unspeakable—vile as Captain Frazier."

TODAY—"OLIVER TWIST," by Charles Dickens.
TOMORROW—"The Virginians," by W. M. Thackeray.

DICKENS

Charles Dickens did most of his writing in the morning. He usually was content with the hours between nine and one. He rarely wrote in the afternoon. In his youthful days he often composed at night, but this habit was abandoned later.

He could turn off apge after page at great speed and oftentimes the custom of printing his novels in parts made this necesary. He was seldom far ahead of the printer. But ordinarily he considered three pages a good day's work. If he did four and they satisfied him he thought it an unusually good day.

A sketch of Young Dickens

He liked to write. He described himself as one "who writes and grins, as if he thought he were very funny indeed." This was when he was well into his story. In starting a novel he was extremely slow. He could not hit upon names that satisfied him. His most loved hero was Trotfield, Trotbury, Copperboy and Copperstone before he fianlly became Copperfield. But once in his stride he seldom rewrote, and he plunged ahead joyously.

For every hour given to writing he set aside another for exercise. He describes how he "walked about the streets of London, 15 and 20 miles many a night when all the sober folks had gone to bed." As he walked, whether in London or Paris streets or along the Kentish cliffs, he was planning his story. But he was not so absorbed as to be oblivious to the people he passed. Quaint and commonplace men and women in city streets and country lanes flashed before his eyes and the next day were made immortal in his tales.

"OLIVER TWIST"

By CHARLES DICKENS

Condensation by Rev. Howard LaField (Formerly Dean and Professor of English Literature at St. John's Military Academy.)

Oliver Twist was born about seventy-five miles from London, in the lying-in room of the almshouse. His mother, worn and exhausted from a long and painful journey on foot, had been found unconscious in the road, and had been carried to the only place of refuge for such as she seemed to be. His name he owed to the inventive genius of the parish beadle, who remarked: "The last one was a 's'—Swubble I named him, the next one as comes will be Unwin, and I've got names ready made to the end of the alphabet, and all the way trrough it again, when we come to 'z,'"

The wronged and unhappy mother died without revealing her name, and the only proofs of the boy's identity, a locket and ring, kept even at the price of starvation, were stolen from the corpse before it was cold by the old crone who had been in attendance.

The orphan's childhood, passed in cruel neglect and semi-starvation, was brought to an abrupt close by his own unparalleled act. Desperate through hunger, he and his companions determine that some one of them shall secure for all an extra helping of the thin and watery gruel which is their principal diet. The lot falls upon Oliver. Nine-year-old child though he was, he was "reckless with misery." He rose from the table and, advancing to the workhouse-master, basin and spoon in hand, he said, "Please, sir, I want some more!"

Such unheard-of daring receives speedy treatment. The next morning a bill, posted upon the gate, offers five pounds to anyone who will take Oliver Twist off the hands of the parish.

Then there follows a brief stay as the apprentice of a coffinmaker and undertaker, who, with an eye to the effect, promptly makes of the sad-faced little waif a chief mourner at the funerals of children, and "many were the processions which little Oliver headed, in a hat-band reaching down to his knees, to the admiration of all the mothers in the town."

His master is, on the whole, well-disposed toward him, but a fight with a bullying older apprentice brings him into unmerited disgrace and punishment and he runs away.

On the outskirts of London he chances upon the fascinatingly droll Artful Dodger, pickpocket and pupil of Fagin. The curious behavior of his new associates is only a game to the innocent boy, when Fagin places snuff-boxes, jewelry, watches and handkerchiefs in his pockets, and then stands looking in imaginary store-windows while (in an unbelievably short time) every one of the things is taken from him. The true meaning of it all bust upon the horrified Oliver, when he is taken on an expedition and sees the "game in full operation. Dazen and confused, he is the only one captured and taken before a magistrate. His innocence is established, but he faints in the court room, and is taken home by the remorseful Mr. Brownlow, the man who pocket he was supposed to have picked. In his new friend's house Oliver is nursed through a serious illness, and better days seem to have dawned for him, when he again falls into the hands of Fagin. This is no chance happening, for the old crook, dreading the information which the boy may give, has him kidnapped, while on an errand for Mr. Brownlow, by Nancy, a wretched girl of the streets, pupil of Fagin, and mistress of Bill Sikes, the greatest ruffian of the whole gang.

In order to close Oliver's mouth, by making him also a criminal, he is taken along on a housebreaking attempt. Protesting, he is put through a small window that he may open the door to his companions. He is firmly determined to warn the people of the house, but the burglary is a failure, and Oliver, wounded by a stray shot, is left in a ditch by the fleeing gangsters. The next morning he crawls, injured as he is, to the same house, where his story is believed and he finds new and lasting friends.

Again the lad is sought out by Fagin, aided by a mysterious man who has great emotion at a chance sight of Oliver in the street, and who now plots with Fagin, not merely for the possession of the boy, but for his moral ruin, which seems to be desired especially by this so-called Monks.

Their whispered plottings are overheard by Nancy, who atones for her former kidnapping of Oliver by risking her life to inform his new friends of his true parentage.

The interview between this scorned street-girl and the beautiful Rose Maylie, adopted niece of Oliver's protectress, gives Dickens a splendid opportunity to which he does not fail to do full justice. "Coldly and harshly treated by Mrs. Maylie's self-righteous servants, the girl is in a defiant mood when finally admitted, and remarks, with a toss of the head, 'It's a hard matter to get to see you, lady. If I had taken offence and gone away, as many would have done, you'd have been sorry for it day, and not without season.'"

But "the kind tone of the answer she received, the sweet voice, the gentle manner, the absence of any accent of haughtiness or displeasure took the girl by surprise and she burst into tears. 'Oh, lady, lady, she said, clasping her hands passionately before her face, 'if there was more like you, there would be fewer like me, there would, there would!'"

Then comes the startling account of what Nancy had overheard; Monks had secured, by clever inquiry and bribery, the locket and the ring; he recognized Oliver; he alludes to his father's will and speaks of the gratification it will be to him (Monks) to make a common felon of his young brother Oliver. He also says with a laugh that there is some comfort in the fact that his identity has been kept from his latest friends, "since how many thousands and hundreds of thousands of pounds they would give to know who their two-legged spaniel is."

Rejecting all Rose's efforts to place her in some safe refuge from her horroible associates, and refusing all rewards, the weeping girl returns to the only life she has ever known, arranging to repeat her evidence to some discreet man whom Rose is to bring to London Bridge.

Nancy keeps this appointment with Rose and Mr. Brownlow, but it costs her life, as suspicious Fagin has had her followed and watched. Sikes, insane with rage, brutally disregards her protestations that she has shielded him and has remained faithful to him. Disbelieving her, he beats her to death with a club, then flees vainly from the terrors of his own memory of the deed, and dies by an accident as he is trying to escape arrest.

The gang is broken up by evidence in Mr. Brownlow's hands. Fagin is tried and hanged.

As to Monks, whose real name is Leeford, Mr. Brownlow proves to be his father's intimate friend, to have had first-hand information of all the facts the dissolute son had tried to conceal. Oliver is his half-brother, natural son of Edwin Leeford and Agnes Fleming, to whom he had turned in passionate love from his unhappy and wretched home. His will left the bulk of his property to Agnes (in default of other atonement, and to their unborn child. If a boy, however, he was only to inherit if he kept his name unstained during his minority. Rose is the younger sister of the unhappy Agnes.

Monks takes the share given him and leaves England; Oliver is adopted by Mr. Brownlow; Rose marries Mrs. Maylie's son, Harry, and the two households enter on well-merited blessings and happiness.

BETTY FAIRFAX'S READY ADVICE

Chats With the Love-Lorn Answers to Missives

Dear Miss Fairfax: Would you suggest some games to play at a Hallowe'en party for children? Also what should be served?

Youngsters.

Ans.—I have received so many requests for hints for a Hallowe'en party for girls and boys between the ages of 10 and 15 that I am answering them all at once. I will not answer such questions again, if anyone desires to keep these hints, they must clip them. I will give some suggestions in another answer for a party for grown ups.

It will be best to hold the party in a large room where there is an open fire or stove so that a kettle can be hung over it. Use dried grasses, corn shocks, pumpkin faces, jack o' lanters and black cats and witches for decoration. Across the floor of the large room draw with chalk a path which is supposed to be an open road or if you cannot draw on the bare floor, use strips of canvas. Hang in a conspicuous place on a large cardboard this verse:

Hallowe'en will come, will come;
Witchcraft will be set going;
Fairies will be at full speed,
Running in every pass.
Avoid the open road, children, children,
Or forfeit pay.

The chalk path is then pointed out to the guests and they are told to avoid it on penalty of forfeits, which may be redeemed after supper. The festivities then start by the hostess giving to each a lighted candle. Two by two they walk about the room to free it from goblins, wicked fairies and spirits. All then gather about the fire, after the kettle has been filled with cold water. Hand to each boy a spoon with a tiny bit of lead in it. He melts this lead in the fire, then hands the spoon to his partner who drops the lead into the cold water. The lead forms different shapes, which can be interpreted to prophesy the boy's profession: a bullet for a soldier, a pencil for a writer and a hammer for a carpenter, etc. Such a game as shadow buff would be fun at this point. Stretch a sheet across the room and stand one player on one side of it and let the rest of the party stand on the other side. Put a candle between the crowd and the sheet and let them pass one by one performing some kind of a stunt. It is the aim of the single player to guess the right names to the shadow stunts and of the others, by performing antics, to keep him from guessing the name correctly. Pronging cherries is a scream. Each child is provided with a plate upon which are two candied cherries and a fork. The children are bidden to look into each others' eyes so that neither can look down at the plate. With forks erect they attempt to prong and eat the cherries, one after another. The player who first succeeds wins. Serve as refreshments a part or all of the following menu—apple and nut salad, brown and white bread sandwiches with cream cheese filling, hot chocolate with a marshmallow jack-o-lantern on top, gingerbread and salted nuts.

Dear Betty: I would like to get some help for a friend of mine. Isn't there a law in Ohio compelling a single man to provide for his mother? My friend has taken care of her mother almost entirely alone for the past three years, while the where-abouts of her brother were unknown. The mother had had a serious illness, leaving her almost totally blind. The daughter, having had a serious operation, is working herself to death to provide for herself and her mother. The mother is not fit to be left alone, but the daughter is compelled to leave her to make a living. Recently the son and brother has written from a city in Ohio and has made promise after promise to send money to help support his mother, but fails to keep his Promises. How should his sister go about to make him help support their mother?

Mrs. L. G

Ans.—There is a law compelling a son to help support his mother. Report the case to the prosecutor in the county where the mother is living and have the son arrested.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Will you please tell me what kind of a masquerade dress I could wear on Hallowe'en? I am going to two parties, would it be necessary to wear a different costume each time? I would like to have something like a ballet dancers' dress, as my partner is to have that kind.

A Million Thanks.

Ans.—It would not be necessary to wear a different costume to each party unless the same crowd is attending both. In that case it would be hard for you to masquerade if you wore the same thing twice. A ballet dancer usually wears a dress with a straight bodice and wide fluffy skirt which reaches to her knees. White silk hose and white ballet slippers would complete the costume. You could mask your face by wearing a pillow case over your head, thus presenting the picture of a ghost-like dancer.

THERE ARE BEDS AND BEDS BUT MANY FAVOR TWINS

Now comes the announcement that our twentieth century hurry-skurry civilization is an ardent twin bed fan. We have adopted it right along with the cafeteria, the pay as you enter street-car and woman suffrage, and in this enlightened age we just simply can't get along without them.

First it was a fad, a sort of style to be affected by the ultra-rich desiring to have something to distinguish them from their brothers who happened to be less fortunate socially and financially. But that was in the days before we paid our railroad engineers more than the governors of our states. Now twin beds are the style, and being the style they are a necessity; we have the money to buy them and we have bought them and at this very minute they are parked in all our well regulated households.

There was a time when one half of the world looked upon the other half as its bedfellow. If it stayed out a little later than usual at the poker party or other nocturnal function it could go to its needed repose with the full confidence that when it slipped between the sheets the warmth of the other half would have taken the chill off in advance.

But times have changed. It has been so decreed by style and the ability of the inhabitants of a prosperous country to keep up with it. No more can you toast your toes by a crackling fire on cold winter evenings while your bedfellow warms up the bed. You must face the cold sheets alone, single handed and shivvering.

Of course, twin beds cost more but what of that? After father dines at the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria or the club and eventually the time for slumber rolls around he can climb into his twin without fear of mother disturbing him when she gets in from the club. Or if perchance you have a thrilling novel that keeps you from slumber until the wee small hours of the morning and come to the climax, where the hero is telling her that life will not be worth the living without her, there is no one to spoil the effect by the emission of gurgles resembling an emptying bath-tub, and commonly known as snoring.

But aside from these advantages consider the snappy effect of a room outfitted with twin beds. Dealers now have white ivory twin beds with insets of cane, crinkly grained beds to match the bed room suite and the massive brass twins reflecting your countenance from every angle, and costing as much for each twin as grandfather used to pay for a cow and the winners feed.

But these are not all the reasons for the downfall of the old fashioned bed of our grandfathers. The doctors have endorsed it. They say that it is the only thing for health and comfort and with all the additional advantages the furniture dealer can think of. Is it any wonder twin beds have won their way into our affection?

VICTIM OF TUMOR.

Following an operation for tumor, Mrs. James Norris, 1623 West Spring street died at the city hospital yesterday afternoon. She had been in ill health for some months. Besides the husband, one daughter Artie Ewewl ofCincinnati is the nearest surviving relative. No funeral arrangementshave been completed.

NEXT BONUS OFFERED A MOST LIBERAL ONE

Every Wide Awake Contestant Will Work Hard for New Subscriptions This Week—Now is the Time to Collect Those Promises. Watch Friday's Times for Big Changes in the Voting.

BY ARNOLD H. PRINE

The special offer which is announced in this issue will meet the hearty approval of all the candidates. It means that whether they turn in five new subscribers or 25 there will be extra votes just the same The wise contestant will figure to hit off a substantial amount in collecting old subscriptions up to date and then take in all the new ones it is at all possible to take Never again will "new ones" get quite so many votes.

The Big Hustle Week

This should be the big hustle week of the campaign. New subscriptions, will come in hand over fist. Each contestant should get in their hardest licks right at this time before this liberal offer expires Extra credit will be given on every new subscription.

Look Out in Front

Some of the candidates now down on the list are taking advantage of this week's offer and will do so next week. Their standing will suddenly jump. Don't be too confident—there is always a dark horse.

Those Promised Subscriptions

"A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," is a very true saying and right now while you can triple your new subscription scale of votes is the time to collect in these "Promised Subscriptions." Your friends have told you they would subscribe for The Times before the close, alright, that is a promise, now THIS week is THE week to collect those promises. This is the week when NEW subscriptions count for the most, and when you should get in your strongest and hardest licks Go to your friends and explain the plan of the campaign, and tell them how, by giving on a NEW subscription before next Thursday, they will not only be getting a good newspaper but they will be doing you a great favor, for if you get over five new subscriptions the scale of votes will be counted triple Read about the offer below, so you will most thoroughly understand it Your PROMISES will do you the MOST good during the next six days Don't fail to get them in.

The Next Special Vote Offer

This week we have a different offer in every way, one that will allow a large number of extra votes, yet smaller than any previous offer that has been made, but if handled properly will count far more than any future offer. The right thing to do is to read the proposition carefully then go after NEW ones this week harder than ever You will have two separate offers for the next six days. One for New subscriptions and one for OLD subscribers renewals and arrearages Be sure you understand it, then forge ahead THIS IS YOUR GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY. SET WITH DIAMONDS

FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS ONLY

Beginning with Friday, October 24, and ending Thursday night, October 30, NEW subscriptions will count as follows On the first Five New Subscriptions you secure, I will double the regular number of votes. Every one after the first five will count TRIPLE or three times the regular scale If any one contestant secures a string of 25 new subscribers between the above mentioned dates, the entire 25 will be counted triple This means simply this If you get only 3 or 4 NEW subscribers, you will receive no extra votes, but if you get 5 new ones, then the regular scale will be doubled. Ten new ones, would mean double votes on 5 and triple on 5, etc. If you get a string of 25 new ones, they would count just three times the regular scale This offer if figured out is smaller than last week, or any previous week, and it is larger than will ever be given again. Now is your time to hustle for new ones.

FOR OLD SUBSCRIPTIONS

From Friday, October 24 to Thursday, October 30 OLD subscriptions will count as follows:

For $12 in OLD Sub. (only) 6,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed
For $15 in OLD Sub. (only) 9,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed
For $30 in OLD Sub. (only) 25,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed
For $46 in OLD Sub. (only) 50,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed

BURTON TALKS NICE TO JAPS

TOKIO.—Former United States Senator Theodore E Burton, of Ohio, told the Japanese financiers in a speech he delivered recently at a banquet tendered to him at the Bankers' Club, that what the United States most desired was that Japan should do everything possible to promote peace among the nations and "avoid that spirit of imperialism which has disturbed the world."

"What America asks of Japan in the Orient," he added, "is a fair field for competition in trade and no policy of aggression toward other countries We only ask that no political control or special privileges shall exclude us from entry to the ports and to the trade of the Orient"

Speaking of the future relations said "every interest points to amity, rather than discord."

SALESMAN SAYS "I AM" MUCH STRONGER SINCE I BEGAN TAKING NUXITE

IS Outspoken in Praise of Nuxite—Says He Had Suffered For Years From Disordered Stomach And Weakened Run-Down System—Noticed Big Improvement After Taking First Bottle—Scores Endorsing New Tonic Designed to Aid Stomach Kidneys, Liver, and Blood, and to Promote Healthy Refreshing Sleep.

There are few better traveling men in the state of Ohio than Charles A. Bracker, who resides at 21 Niagara Avenue, Dayton, Ohio, and covers practically every city and village in the state as often as he can get around to them. Mr. Bracker visits Lima every week and while stopping at the Waldo Hotel, last week, he related an interesting story of his experience with Nuxite, the new medicine that is now being so widely discussed and distributed in Lima and throughout the state.

"A disordered stomach and a run-down system has troubled me for a number of years," said Mr. Bracker. Continuing, he said, "This condition was manifested mostly by a weak feeling in my stomach, accompanied by that tired, listless, half-sick feeling which goes with a weakened, run-down system. I kept going, and thought that in time I would be able to wear the trouble out, but it seems to get worse instead, and finally caused me to become extremely nervous as well

Before I began using Nuxite, I had noticed a great deal about it in the newspapers, and I had become convinced that it was a new kind of medicine, entirely different from the many different kinds which I had seen advertised so much in the newspapers Finally, as a friend of mine insisted that I give Nuxite a trial and on his advice I purchased my first bottle of Nuxite. After taking the first bottle, I noticed a marked improvement in my condition Since then I have kept a supply of Nuxite in my traveling bag during all of my travels throughout the state I cheerfully recommend this remedy to anyone who suffers from a condition similar to mine, for I know this new medicine is different from anything I have ever tried before and I think so much of it that I always keep a supply of Nuxite on hand"

To relieve a sluggish or congested condition of the bowels, there is nothing better known than Nuxite Laxative Tablets When constipated it is a good idea to take Nuxite Laxative Tablets in connection with the Nuxite treatment, thereby keeping the bowels open while the tonic acts as a general builder, furnishing strength through the liver, stomach and blood

YOST AND WIKE WORKING HARD TO WIN COMING GAME

Ohio Fans Are Asking Themselves Which Team Can Stand Awful Onslaught of the Other.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23.—Can Michigan stop Harley, Stinchcomb and Davies?

Can Ohio State conquer Michigan's beef and speed?

Those two questions are all-important in the minds of Coaches Wilce and Yost. Ohio State's chances to cop the Michigan game on October 25 rest with the prowess of its pony backs, a set unequaled in the middle west. Michigan's chief advantage in the fray will be the weight in the line, coupled with its speed and the cleverness of Sparks and Weston in eluding the scarlet and gray defense.

Captain Chic Harley is still showing the form that landed him on Walter Camp's mythical all-American team in 1917. The speedy Ohio halfback was the main noise in Ohio State's drive to the western conference championships in 1916 and 1917. His slipperiness, dodging tactics made him the most feared man in the Big Ten. Harley scored all of the Wilcemen's points in the crucial Wisconsin game in 1916, when State trimmed the Badgers, 14 to 13. He also scored all of the points against Illinois.

Harley will have difficulty in shining as he did two years ago, as he is a marked man. Opposing teams have begun to lay for him already, but none has stopped him completely Harley's open field work is not his only asset. Besides being a nifty ball toter, he is a long distance punter, his spirals averaging 55 to 60 yards. Chic is a dangerous field goal kicker, having batted 1,000 so far this season, with three goals in three attempts.

As a reserve to fall back on if Harley should not get started against the Wolverines, Dr. Wilce has Pete Stinchcomb and Tommy Davies, two midget backfield men who are as shifty as Chic in an open field, but lack his line bucking ability.

Stinchcomb, a former Fostoria high product, was Harley's running mate at halfback two years ago. Last fall he joined the navy and performed at quarterback for the Cleveland Naval Reserves, being moved to the pivot position because of his lack of heft and his snaky returns of punts. While with that aggregation, Pete classed with Ducote of Auburn, Harlan of Georgia Tech and Gorgas, of Chicago, all of whom were picked on various All-American elevens His gridiron ability received its finishing touches there, and critics here declare he is the equal of Harley in carrying the ball through a spread out opposition.

Palmer Speaks On Efficiency

R E. Palmer, Chicago, spoke to approximately 300 men at the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night on "Efficiency and Your Job" The keynote of Palmer's address was efficiency from the standpoint of an executive. His audience was made up in a great part of men in a minor executive capacity with the Garford works, Gramm-Bernstein Co., and other plants of the city.

B A. Gramm, of the Gramm-Bernstein Co, was chairman of the meeting, and expressed the opinion that efficiency, resulting in increased production is the only salvation of the country's manufacturers today.

FOR MEN WHO WORK HARD.

Men who work at hard physical labor are subject to kidney trouble. J. G. Wolf, 724 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills relieved me of a severe backache that bothered me for several months. A few bottles fixed me up in good shape." They also relieve bladder and urinary ailments. H. F. Vortkamp. tu-thurs-sat

An adding machine, small enough to be easily moved from place to place, has been invented which completes its work without it being necessary to pull down a handle at all.

Lima Teams Stage Torrid Contests

Three good matches were rolled on Lima alleys last night in which the L. E. & W., Chicago and Sheet Metal Workers were the victors. The last named teams are in the Garford League. They walloped the Boston team and the Paint Shop, respectively, while the railroaders beat the Little Noveldas.

German Opera Gets Protection of Injunction

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Supreme Court Justice Nathan Bijur has granted a temporary injunction restraining the police and city authorities from interfering with the production of German opera in the Lexington theatre A hearing on the granting of a permanent injunction will be given tomorrow

Attorneys for the producers announced that a performance would be given tonight. The police prepared for trouble in view of the rioting that marked the opening performance Monday night and threats of violence if furter performances were given.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

To maintain health a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the bodily waste and provide energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach trouble, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion revise your diet, eat sparingly especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly Let reason, not appetite control also take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and you will soon be feeling all right again. m-w-f

KID ST.ELMAS TO BATTLE W. CLARK

Two Little Fellows Will Mix Things Up at Urbana Friday.

It has just been announced that Kid St. Elmas, local fighter, will be one of the principals in the main bout at the initial boxing exhibition in Urbana, Friday night. The Kid will match his wits and punches with Whitey Clark, of Springfield. The bout will go ten rounds.

St. Elmas and Clark staged an exhibition here some months ago, and despite the fact that Clark is a veteran as compared with the local lad, St. Elmas held his own with him. It is needless to say that the fight will be a torrid affair, for the local man has a reputation to make, and he is going to fight hard before he lets Clark get his number.

Clark on the other hand will battle hard to keep St. Elmas from being victor, for Whitey has a good reputation and does not desire to have it spoiled by the new comer

Financiers Rally To Build Homes

HAMILTON, O., Oct. 23.—In an endeavor to mitigate the difficulty of procuring capital for the construction of additional houses in the city bankers and manufacturers today stand pledged to provide $750,000 to be loaned on first and second mortgages.

Bankers will provide $500,000 to be loaned through building and loan associations for first mortgage, while manufacturers will loan $250,000 to the Home Building Company, to be in turn loaned on second mortgages In this way it is believed fully 1,000 dwellings can be built in a year.

HELD ON CHARGE OF AWFUL CRIME

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct 23 — Bert Labus, 40, well known farmer of East Springfield, Ohio, is in the county jail here with his bond fixed at $6,000 to insure safe-keeping because of threats of lynching throughout East Springfield for the man who is charged with assaulting his two young daughters, Laura aged 15 and Clara aged 12. The arrest was made following a letter sent by the eldest girl to Governor Cox telling of the father's abuse The authorities are determined to keep Labus in safekeeping for a second reason for he has made threats to kill both girls for their disclosures According to stories of the girls told at a preliminary hearing yesterday, the father has been mistreating the girls for some time, beginning with the eldest in 1917.

SAVINGS

The purpose of The Allen County Savings & Loan Company in paying five per cent. interest on deposits is two fold.

It encourages the man or woman who is trying to accumulate a fund to purchase a home or for the "Rainy Day."

And the money so received by this company is loaned to others to purchase or improve homes.

First mortgage on real estate is always required for loans, making the very best security for the company and the depositor

Hohenzollern Mad-About Insulting Films

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The former emperor has commanded Herr Siebert, an attorney of Berlin, to institute a suit against the actor, Ferdinand Bonn, who prepared what are known as the "Kaiser Films" which were barred in Berlin but were permitted to be exhibited elsewhere. The ex-emperor charges insult and the misuse of his portrait and asks for the suppression of the films.

The Bonn films referred to in the foregoing were to have been produced in Berlin October, 10 but were suppressed by government order on that day. The title of the picture was announced as "Wilhelm's Good Fortune and Bad Fortune."

The government announcement said the suppression grew out of a desire to prevent the films being made a cause for political combats at a time when party feeling already was at a high pitch

MEN AND WOMEN ARE NO OLDER THAN THEY FELL

One of our leading doctors says, 'Everyone, no matter what their age, can be healthy and strong. It is a case of take care of yourself.

"For want of Iron and Phosphates you may be old at thirty, nervous, thin, weak, and all-in, while at fifty or sixty, with plenty of Iron and Phosphates in your blood, you will feel young, full of life, vim and energy.

"Many a man and woman who ought to feel young are losing out simply because their blood and nerves are starving for want of Phosphated Iron. Lack of Iron and Phosphates maake men and women old long before their time, weak, rundown nervous wrecks.

"You will find that the strong, keen, forceful, successful men and healthy, rosy-cheeked, happy women are those whose blood and nerves are charged with iron and Phosphates.

"Phosphated Iron makes new, rich red blood; renews nerve force and vitality, and increases my patients' strength and appearance one hundred per cent. Thousands of men and women who were "all-in" have "come-back" with astonishing health strength and happiness by taking Phosphated Iron."

Phosphated Iron is put up in capsules. Do not take inferior pills or tablets. Ask for Phosphated Iron capsules. For sale by Butler's Drug Stores; Badwin's Central Drug Store and leading Druggists everywh. Th.

STEELS A STRONG FEATURE ON MART

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Steels soon became the outstanding features, trading in that group assuming sensational proportions. During the first hour on a volume of business exceeding 500,00 shares Lackawanna jumped up 14½ points, Crucible 13, Bethlehem 4 and National Lead 6. Republic and U. S. Steels made full recoveries and several minor steels rose 2 to 5 points. Many of those gains suffered material reduction later, partly on profit-taking and also because of marked pressure elsewhere. Motors were under persistent pressure declining 2 to 6 points, rails, shippings and coppers also easing call money opened at 6 per cent.

Stocks were heavy at the opening of today's session the reversal being attributed to prospects for renewed industrial disturbances in connection with the withdrawal of the labor delegation from the industrial conference. Recent favorites, notably oils, motors and equipments, reacted 1 to 4 points with shipping, tobacco and food shares. Republic Iron, which featured yesterday's late dealings broke 31½ at the outset. U. S. Steel losing 1½ but Bethlehem, Crucible and Lackawanna Steels were strong.

Today's stock market recorded the largest turnover and wildest fluctuations in many months, early gains of 3 to 15 points among industrials being largely forfeited later. Sales approximated 2,100,000 shares.

CORN CONTINUES ON DOWN GRADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Corn underwent a fresh set-back in value today largely a result of new downturns in the price of hogs.

Opening prices, which ranged from ⅞ off to ⅛ up, with December 1.24⅛ to 1.24 ½ and May 1.22⅛ to 1.23 were followed by a material decline all around, and then something of a reaction.

Oats weakened with corn after opening ⅛ to ⅜ down, including December at 71 ⅛ to 71 ¼ the market continued to sag. Provisions parted company with the hog market, and rallied after an initial downturn.

Corn, December 1.24½; May 1.22⅝.
Oats, December 71; May 73¾.
Pork, October 41.50; January 32.40.

U. S. IS PREPARED FOR WAR ON LIQUOR THRUOUT COUNTRY

Revenue Officials Ready to Act When Dry Enforcement Takes Effect.

Nation Wide Drive on 2.75 Beer Will Begin Oct. 28, Is Belief.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Country wide federal activities for final demolition of the liquor traffic, including the banging of the lid on 2.75 beer, will be started not later than Oct. 28.

Confidential letters of secret instructions for rigid law enforcement have gone out from the treasury department, bureau of internal revenue, to the internal revenue collectors and agents throughout the United States.

Internal revenue agents are charged with much of the responsibility of enforcing under the new prohibition enforcement code, until a permanent enforcement staff is established.

The bell will ring to start the onslaught to drive the liquor business out of its last trench on the day that the dry enforcement law, just passed by congress, takes effect.

Telegrams, prepared in the internal revenue department, are ready for dispatch the moment the law becomes effective, ordering the agents in every state and large city in the country to put into effect the instructions already received.

Will Start on Saloons.

It is understood the chief effort of the government for the first few weeks will be against the saloons which have been defying the law in larger cities and against the places where 2.75 beer has been on sale.

Enforcement by internal revenue agents is temporary. In the meantime work will be pushed on the building up of a new and permanent force of strictly prohibition agents. A deputy commissioner of internal revenue will be named who will be charged with keeping the United States dry.

He will direct the country's anti-liquor army. It is understood no Anti-Saloon-League man will be named to this position and that the dry organization is fully satisfied with that decision. It is expected a man will be named who will be known to the public and will command confidence.

A prohibition enforcement officer is to be designated for each state to have charge of the government's prohibition drive in that commonwealth.

Supervisors for Each District.

Under the state officer there will be a district supervisor for each congressional district and deputies will be named for as many counties and cities as circumstances make necessary.

"There will be nothing fanatical or sensational in what will be done to enforce the law, said Jouett Shouse, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of the internal revenue bureau, this afternoon.

"Houses aren't to be broken into and the law streched out of its meaning by too zealous effort to make the country bone dry.

"On the other hand, no bending of the law will be tolerated. Our position will be to stick to the letter of the law. It is plain. We are not responsible for the terms of the law, but its enforcement, and its every provision will be strictly enforced whether communities like it or not."

YANKEE CONSUL CAPTURED BY MEXICAN BAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—William O. Jenkins, American Consular Agent at Puebla, Mexico, was kidnapped by three masked bandits, said to be Mexican rebels, at Pueblaand is being held for $150,000 ransom. the State Department was advised Wednesday.

The American Embassy on inquiry has been informed by the Mexican foreign office that the government would take all possible steps to effect the liberation of Jenkins. The American Embassy has been authorized to detail a member of its staff to Puebla to assist in obtaining the agent's release.

The dispatch received by the department quotes the Mexico City newspaper Excelsior as having represented that the bandits entered a factory owned by Jenkins, gagged and tied the watchman, forced the safe and looted it of 60,000 pesos and then took Jenkins away with them.

Victim's Wife Warned

The bandits are reported to have told Mrs. Jenkins that they were rebels and would hold her husband for 300,000 pesos ransom. They said Jenkins would not be harmed if there was no attempt to pursue the abductors. An American business associate of Jenkins' has confirmed the newspaper story.

HELD FOR BURGLARY

ASHTABULA, O., Oct. 23.—James Mason, 19, and Harry Goss, 22, said to have burglarized a clothing store in Franklin, Pa., last evening, are in central police state here today. They were arrested on a New York Central Franklin division, train here late last night by railroad officers who trailed them from Franklin.

MANY TEACHERS TO ATTEND CONVENTION FRIDAY AT TOLEDO

Quite a Few From Lima Will Make Trip In Autos.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE

Instructors Hope To Procure Many Suggestions at Meeting.

Practically every teacher in the school system in northwestern Ohio is planning to attend the 17th annual convention of the Northwestern Ohio Teachers Association which opens Friday morning October 24 at Toledo. A special car over the Ohio Electric to accomodate the teachers will leave the station at 6 o'clock Friday morning, while at 8:30 o'clock a car and trailer will leave here, so that teachers will arrive in Toledo in time for the opening sessions of the convention.

More than 200 Lima public school teachers, and at least 150 county and rural teachers are expected to attend. City school superintendent Collins Principal Offenhaur of Central high school, Principal Fogue of South high school and County Superintendent Argenbright will also attend with their respective teachers. Quite a number of the teachers will leave late this afternoon and evening in order to spend the night in Toledo.

Both city public schools and rural schools will be closed all day Friday to permit the teachers to attend the meeting. The program for the two days session which includes lectures, talks, departmental meetings, round table and general discussions is to be very interesting, and includes such noted educators as Dr. D. G. Straver of Columbus University, Dr W. G. Bagley, also of Columbus, and Dr. M. L. Burton, president of the University of Minnesota.

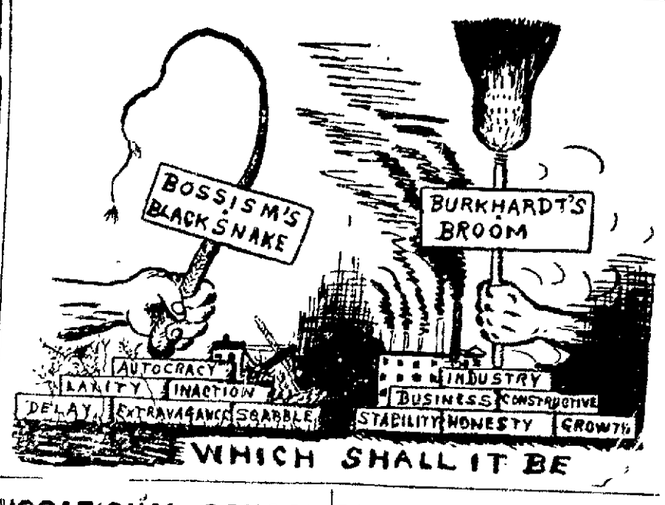
LIMA'S IMPORTANT DECISION



VOCATIONAL SCHOOL OPENS NOVEMBER 10

Training Will Commence One Month Earlier Than Usual.

Routine school matters occupied the minds of the board of education members at their regular meeting held at Central high school. The recommendation by Superintendent Collins that the night school open at an earlier date than last year, was endorsed by the board. It has been decided to formally open all classes November 10, almost a month in advance of 1918.

E. L. Heusch, state vocational supervisor, has reported to Superintendent Collins that state and federal appropriation of funds for maintaining night school is assured. It is also understood by school officials that the appropriation for Lima is the third largest in the state for vocational work and is only excelled by two larger cities, Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Nine vocational studies are to be included in the curriculum, aside from that furnished in the Smith-Hughes law, and are to include bookkeeping, business English, typewriting, elementary school subjects, English and citizenship, grammer school subjects, history, telegraphy and stenography. The term length has been fixed at 24 weeks.

F. W. Mullenhour and Guy Butler, members of the board were appointed to look into the merits of electrically operated ash-hoists for Central and South high schools, to carry away the refuse which gathers in the large furnaces. They will report at the next meeting. The hoists will cost in the neighborhood of $500.

In his report Superintendent Collins stated the total enrollment in schools for the first month ending October 3 is 6,548, of which 1,133 pupils are at Central high and 782 at South high. Miss Lillian Pierson has been appointed teacher at Lincoln school, due to an increase in enrollment of nearly 60 pupils since school commenced.

Will Show How Safe Flying Is

Are you afraid to ride in an airplane? If you are just come out to the Breese field Sunday afternoon, where Bob Bartley will demonstrate to you that a trip to the clouds in a plane is about as safe as riding in an automobile. Bartley will do the many "stunts" made famous by Lieut Locklear, such as walking on the wings, hanging to the under carriage, and decending upon a rope all while the machine is in the air.

The airplane will be piloted by Lieut Logan Case, late of the Royal Flying Corps, who has seen much service in France as a pursuit pilot. The machine used is a Canadian Curtis. This aviators will convey passsengers Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Gas Hearing Is Postponed

Owing to the illness of S. S. Wheeler, legal counsel, for the Lima Natural Gas Company, the case between that company and the city of Lima, in which the latter is seeking to abolish the 35 cent ready to serve charge, has been indefinitely postponed. The case was to have been heard yesterday afternoon at Columbus.

City solicitor Light some time ago appeared before the State Utilities Commission and requested that the gas company be not allowed to add that charge. However, seven councilmen are alleged to have sent a petition to the body requesting the commission to grant the ready to serve charge. This the commission proceeded to do, and the case was carried to court by the city.

Medics Enjoy Interesting Meet

Members of the Allen County Medical Society, held their monthly meeting, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at St Rita's hospital, as the guests of Sisters in charge of the institution. The meeting was held in the enclosed roof garden at the top of the hospital, and following the regular business session the physicians were guests at an informal luncheon in the hospital dining room. In addition to the members of the society, the visiting physicians and X-Ray technicians, who are attending a conference at the hospital this week were also guests.

A paper on "Opthalmology and Other Specialties and Their Relation to General Medicine," was read by Dr. F. G. Stueber, while Doctors E. C. Yingling and J. R. Johnson held a discussion of the above subject.

TEAM CAPTAINS ARE ASSURED OF VICTORY

Indication Are More Than $20,000 Quota Will Be Received.

Team captains and solicitors in this morning at 9 o'clock reported this noon that they were assured that the desired quota of $20,000 for Lima would be obtained by this evening. A few of the workers who covered their districts this morning made a report of their receipts at noon today, but the majority of the solicitors will not report until after the stores and business houses close this evening.

Today was also welfare day in the schools, as the schools will all be closed tomorrow to permit the teachers to attend the convention at Toledo. Friday however, is the day set aside by moving picture proprietors to donate 10 per cent of their gross receipts to the fund.

Officials of the various organizations which are affiliated with the Federated Welfare Association, which is the new name of the body, have made an estimate of the amount of money needed for their respective organizations, and according to their quota will be apportioned to them as soon as the desired amount is obtained. The five organizations now under the one one head are, Salvation Army, Child Welfare, Associated Charities, Day Nursery, and Social Service.

HE SHOULD HAVE GIVEN HER HIS CARD

A would be masher met a rebuff in the Pennsylvania station Wednesday evening which no doubt will cause him to be more cautious in the future, when he met unexpected strong-arm resistance from a young lady he addressed as "Mabel" and who, he explained to the crowd he thought was an old friend he had met in another city.

The young man did not give his address but said his name was Reynolds and he is "on the road." As to the name of the young lady, even the reporter was too timid to make investigation after seeing Reynold's unhappy predicament.

GOOD ROADS BODY IS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER THE OUTLOOK

Allen Council Is Pushing Two Mill Levy Proposal Hard.

IS WORKING HARD

Chairman Bradley Warns Voters To Remember The Issue at Polls.

"Abolish the mud tax and substitute a good road levy" is a slogan which will be preached from one end of Allen county to the other, in fact, from one end of the state to the other, between now and election day.

Voters of 65 counties, in addition to Allen have before them the proposition of approving or rejecting a small levy for local construction and repair.

Members of the County Good Roads Council and other road boosters, under the direction of Mr. W. C. Bradley chairman of the Council, are putting on a campaign to explain the advantages of a highway levy of a few cents per $1,000 over the otherwise inevitable and more expensive mud tax.

Chairman Bradley has announced his organization also is putting up all over the county posters, placards stickers and the like, bearing the appeal "Vote 'yes' on the county road levy" and various other reminders of proposed levy. He said there is being circulated for the information of voters also much campaign literature in the form leaflets explaining the proposed tax and its results. If approved, and pointing out that all the money derived is to be spent on local roads for which state-aid funds cannot be obtained.

The state confines its work to a limited system of main market and inter-county highways," said Mr. Bradley "the legislative having left counties to decide for themselves whether they want additional improved roads or not. It's a home rule proposition. People who vote against the levy this year won't have a right hereafter to complain about poor roads in this county."

The good road levy is the only county proposition being voted on this fall, Mr. Bradley points out, adding that for this reason voters are apt to overlook it or fail to give it proper consideration before going to the polls. There are the township and municipal elections at one end, and the state-wide prohibition and property classification questions at the other, with no county issue in between excepting the road levy. Voters are urged to remember the sole county question and vote for lifting the county out of the mud.

CLOCKS OF ATIONN TO BE SET BACK

The clocks of the entire nation are to be set back one hour, Sunday, October 26, when the daylight saving law, enacted as a war measure, will be repealed.

To people for whom time means nothing during the night the best time to make the change is before retiring Saturday night. The time officially set for the change, however, is at 2 o'colck, Sunday morning.

Penny Time Changes

An announcement of the United States Railroad Administration states the change will be made on the Pennsylvania Railroad effective Saturday, so if you intend using any of the Pennsylvania trains leaving Lima, Saturday, October 25, it will be necessary to figure on it leaving one hour earlier than is shown on the time table. Other railroads have made no announcements except that all clocks and watches will be set back at 2 o'clock, Sunday morning, or as soon thereafter as the offices open.

PRESENT SCHEDULE STANDS

Information from the local offices of the Erie railroad are to the effect that the new schedules recently submitted have been rejected, and trains will continue to run on the same schedule as heretofore until further notice. It was expected to make the change, affecting practically all the trains passing through Lima, this week.

GOITRE

Removed for Mrs. D. A. Wilt by External Remedy

Mrs D. A. Wilt, Washington, C. H., Ohio says in her own home paper, the Washington Record Republican: "I had an exopthalmic goitre and suffered beyond description for three years. I was a nervous wreck and in a terrible run-down condition. I had almost given up in despair, when a friend advised me to use Sorbol-Quadruple. Two bottles have practically cured me and restored me to much better health in every way. I am glad to tell my experience, even by letter."

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles, containing enough for most cases. It will not irritate or stain the skin. Requires ten minutes daily. Get further information at Hunter's Drug Store. Sold at drug stores everywhere, or write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

NOTE.—It would be illegal to publish the above statement if it were not true.

FEW PERSONS ARE AWARE LIMA FACES SHORTAGE OF COAL

Condition Will Be Serious If Proposed Strike Materializes.

MANY ORDERS PLACED

May Necessitate The Use Of Mine Run Product.

That coal is already scarce in Lima, that the prices of all grades are steadily advancing, and that not all of Lima's residents have awakened to the fact that the country is threatened by a mammoth strike on October 30 when more than 740,000 miners of bituminous and anthracite mines plan to walkout, are outstanding features of a statement made today by a well known coal dealer in Lima.

Lima people are now commencing to order since they have heard that a strike is imminent, but it is uncertain yet whether their orders will be filled. Hundreds could have ordered their winters supply during the summer months, and have been sure of getting what they ordered. A notice from the United States government was received yesterday by practically every coal dealer in the city, stating that all coal cars are to be emptied within 24 hours after arrival at their destination, and if spotted on the railroad tracks after that period they will be commandeered.

No reason for the above order was given, but it is believed by local dealers that the government wishes to get hold of all of the empty cars possible, so they can rush them to the mines and get a large supply of coal as possible before the threatened strike goes into effect.

Not alone the coal miners proposed strike, but that of the steelworkers if it spreads to other industries may be a factor in complicating the coal situation. The industries normally use the slack and a large percentage of the mine run supply of the operators, it is said. If these plants are idle, it will mean that operators will compel dealers supplying domestic consumers to take coal without screening, which means nothing but mine-run quality. Experience has taught householders that under such conditions the price is about the same as for shoveled quality under ordinary circumstances.

TO ADDRESS MERCHANTS

Lynn Revenaugh of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Dry Goods Dealers Association, has been engaged as the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Lima Merchants Association, to be held Thursday evening, October 30, according to James Morton, secretary. Several other speakers will also be secured previous to the dinner, which will be held at the Y. M. C. A.
